Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—There is no change in the river at Williamsport, Pa. The ice has not moved.

—The entire tribe of Sheebit Indians, about one hundred and fifty, were baptized into the Mormon Church at St. George, Utah, on Friday.

—The creditors of the lumber firm of Geo. B. James & Co., of Boston, met on Saturday and chose assignees. The liabilities amount to $2,300,000.

—General B. R. Cowan, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, is on his way to Utah, where he goes to look after matters pertaining to the civil service.

—Mrs. Lena Foster, of Edgefield county, S. C., was murdered on Saturday by some unknown parties while her husband was at work in the field. The Fosters are white.

—The steamer Burns was seized at Little Rock, Ark., on Saturday, by the United States Marshal, on a charge of violating the navigation laws of the United States.

—The United States steamer Pensacola, on her passage from San Francisco to Honolulu, carrying Kalakaua, lost the main topmast, mizzentop gallant mast, and foreroyal yard in a gale.

—Some of the friends of Rev. Dr. D. B. Knickerbocker, of Minneapolis, Minn., talk of presenting his eminent fitness for the vacant Bishopric of Illinois to the notice of leading men in that diocese.

—A fire at East Jeffrey, N. H., on Sunday morning, destroyed the Granite State Hotel and stables, with the contents of the latter, including nine horses, and also destroyed the bank block and dwelling house. Loss $75,000.

—A telegram has been received at Lieut. General Sheridan's headquarters, reporting the surrender at Ft. Sill of a portion of the Quohada band of Indians. This tribe is perfect y wild, and is one of the most troublesome in the southwest. The indications are that the whole tribe will come in.

—The steamship McGregor left Sidney on February 14th, arrived at Aukland on the 19th, and sailed on the 20th, with twenty-seven passengers. Mr. Young, of New York, died of consumption, and was buried the same day. The vessel arrived at Honolulu on March 9th, and sailed on the 10th.

—At Leavenworth, Ks., on Friday night, Captain E. Hensley shot Judge Pendery for the alleged seduction of his daughter. Hensley used a shot gun and put part of a charge of shot into Pendery's back, but did not hurt him much. All the parties were of the highest respectability, and the affair creates great excitement.

—General W. H. Emory, when relieved as commander of the Department of the Gulf, goes to Washington. Of his staff, Capt. W. W. Sanders, Sixth Infantry, goes to Ft. Buford, Dakota; Capt. E. M. Hays, Fifth Cavalry, goes to Arizona; Capt. Luke O'Reilly, Nineteenth Infantry, goes to Camp Supply, Indian Territory.

—The annual meeting of the Vessel Owners and Agents Association of Chicago was held on Saturday. Officers were elected as follows: President, G. C. Finney; Vice President, C. J. Magill; Secretary, Jno. M. Long; Treasurer, H. S. Halsted. Commissions continue at the rate of seventy-five cents per thousand bushels wheat capacity.

—On the opening of the Chancery Clerk's office in Vicksburg on Saturday, it was found that the office had been burglarized. Books, papers and official bonds have been tampered with, and the books of warrants on the special and poor-house funds, containing "stubs" of the warrants last issued, and the blanks now being used, were found to be missing.

—A dispatch from Sherman, Texas, states that a detective had arrived there with Matt Morris, the last of the gang concerned in the robbery of the messenger of the Southern Express Company, in Memphis, on the 1st of February. The detective states that he found Morris in the mountains, at the head of the Red river, about one hundred miles west of Sherman.

—A newspaper reporter sent to the locality of the troubles in Todd county, Ky., reports that four of the accused Ku-Klux are in jail, and will be brought up for trial to-day. A company of State militia have arrived, and all is quiet. There is no apprehension of any attack on the jail or attempt at rescue of the prisoners by their friends. The citizens are gratified at the prospect of the restoration of good order.

—The South Carolina Legislature debated the removal of State Treasurer Cardozo all day Saturday, and took a vote at midnight on the adoption of an address demanding his removal. The address was not adopted, the vote being in the Senate: yeas 11 and nays 18, and in the House: yeas 45 and nays 63. This is regarded as a vindication of Gov. Chamberlain's administration and of the integrity of the present management of the State finances.

—The tobacco manufacturers of St. Louis have protested against the recent ruling of Commissioner Douglass that the additional tax of four per cent. must date from the 3d inst., and have forwarded a petition to that official, asking him to reconsider his ruling. They take the ground that the bill imposing the additional four per cent. tax did not become a law until after business hours on the 3d inst., and that the revenue officers sold stamps under the old law all that day. Purchases of stamps were made, sales effected and contracts made under the old regulation, and therefore the decision of the Commissioner is retrotractive and unjust.

STATE BREVITIES.

SMALL POX at Hollidaysburg.

MCKEESPORT has had its spell.

EBENSBURG needs more houses.

VACANT houses in Tyrone are scarce.

LUMBERMEN expect a brisk spring trade.

THE Ebensburg people are agitated about a water works.

THE reports from the oil regions are not favorable to a big production in 1875.

THE Legislature was in session seventy-two days. Short, but quite long enough.

THE stove and hollow-ware works at Boyer's Ford and Limerick, Chester county, have fully resumed.

MISS BIRCH won the prize at the last spelling school at Franklin. We recollect the birch family when a school boy.

A BRAKEMAN, named Stanton, was run over and killed on the Warren & Dunkirk Railroad, at Warren, Thursday last.

THE Danforth House, at Pithole, is offered for sale. The price now is a barrel of whisky, although it originally cost $40,000.

A YOUNG white woman eloped with a married African from Huntingdon last week, but the pair were subsequently captured.

JOHN NELSON, of Fulton county, claims to be the possessor of a watch which belonged to General Knox, of Revolutionary memory.

SOLOMON F. HOGE, A. F. Silvans, James R. Rhinehart and W. P. Kendall are candidates for County Superintendent in Greene county.

A MAN in Conneautville the other day was caught in the act of committing suicide with an ounce of laudanum in his hand and the same quantity of arsenic in his pocket. He was relieved of his drugs, though not of his life. which must have been a disappointment to him in view of his elaborate preparation.

THE puddlers, ruffers, heaters and rollers of the Blandon Rolling mill, on the East Pennsylvania Railroad, struck on Tuesday last. The reason is that the proprietors have made a reduction of wages. The strikers claim that they are governed by the Philadelphia rules of their union, and are not willing to submit to it.

IN the Moshannon Mines, Clearfield county, as we learn from a Johnstown miner who is now working there, there is a mule employed in the drifts which must have attained a ripe old age. In the war of 1812 he was sufficiently mature to do his share of pulling in a baggage wagon, and the "brand" of that year is still visible on one of his flanks. He also performed duty in the Mexican war, and in the late civil struggle he was either a rebel, or else happened to be engaged in the South when the unpleasantness broke out, as another brand, designating the mark of the lost cause, also appears seared into the skin and flesh. He may have been captured from the Confederacy, and at the close of the struggle he found himself down in a coal mine, where he still performs the work of an able-bodied mule, and is as sagacious as any of the species ever become. His owners design exhibiting him at the Centennial next year, after which, we presume, he will lay down and peacefully pass away, in the happy consciousness that his mission has been more than accomplished, and also the envy of common mules who have not lived so long nor to so good a purpose.—Johnstown Tribune.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Louisiana Question Still Before the Senate.

Democratic Members Passing the Time in Making Speeches.

Andrew Johnson to Take the Floor To-day.

WASHINGTON, March 20, 1874.

Senate Proceedings.

Immediately after the reading of the journal, Mr. Anthony moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the resolution submitted Tuesday night by Mr. Frelinghuysen approving of the action heretofore taken by the President in protecting Louisiana from domestic violence, and expressing the opinion that he should continue to recognize in that State the existing State Government.

Mr. Bayard raised a point of order that the effect of the resolution was legislation, and therefore not in order at this special session of the Senate.

Before the discussion upon the resolution was commenced, Mr. Anthony said it was not the intention of the Senators on his side of the chamber to discuss this matter, and with all due respect to the ingenuity of the Senators on the other side, he did not think they could say anything new in regard to Louisiana. Therefore he did not think there need be any trouble about voting upon it and having final adjournment today.

Mr. Bayard then spoke at length against the resolution.

Finally the Senate, by a vote of 28 yeas to 24 nays, agreed to take up the resolution.

The following is the vote in detail:

Nays—Messrs. Bayard, Bogy, Booth, Caperton, Cockrell, Cooper, Davis, Easton, Gordon, Hamilton, Johnson (Tenn.), Jones (Fla.), Kelly, Kernan, McCreery, Maxey, Norwood, Randolph, Saulsbury, Stevenson, Thurman, Wallace, White and Withers.

Messrs. Cameron (Pa.), Hamlin, Sargent and Windom, who would have voted in the affirmative, were paired with Messrs. Ransom, Merrimon, Dennis and Johnston (Va.), who would have voted in the negative. Those not voting and not announced as paired were Messrs. Alcorn, Christiancy, Clayton, Conover, Dawes, Dorsey, Ferry (Conn.), Goldthwaite, McDonald, Paddock, Wadleigh and Wright.

Mr. Anthony then submitted a substitute agreed upon in the caucus for the resolution of Mr. Frelinghuysen, as follows:

Resolved, That the action of the President in protecting the Government in Louisiana, of which William P. Kellogg is Executive, and the people of that State against domestic violence and enforcing the laws of the United States, is approved.

Mr. Thurman said he wanted time to look into this resolution, and it was evident now that the session would be prolonged till next week. He moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business. Rejected—yeas 22, nays 33.

Mr. Whyte said the resolution was a twin to that for the admission of Pinchback, recently postponed till next December. He moved that the resolution be postponed till the first Monday in December next. Rejected—yeas 24, nays 30.

The following is the vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Bayard, Bogy, Booth, Caperton, Cockrell, Cooper, Davis, Eaton, Gordon, Hamilton, Johnson (Tenn.), Jones (Florida), Kelly, Kernan, McCreery, Maxey, Norwood, Randolph, Saulsbury, Stevenson, Thurman, Wallace, Whyte and Withers—24.

Nays—Messrs. Allison, Anthony, Boutwell, Bruce, Burnside, Cameron (Wis.), Christiancy, Conkling, Cragin, Edmunds, Ferry (Mich.), Frelinghuysen, Harvey, Hitchcock, Howe, Ingalls, Jones (Nev.), Logan, McMillan, Mitchell, Morrill (Me.), Morrill (Vt.), Morton, Oglesby, Paddock, Patterson, Robertson, Sherman, Spencer and West—30.

Mr. Bayard yielded for a motion to adjourn, which was each time rejected.

Finally, on motion of Mr. Randolph, a recess was taken from 4:50 till 6, Mr. Randolph saying his sole object in making a motion for a recess was that the Senators on his side of the chamber might have an opportunity for conference.

While Mr. Bayard was speaking, nearly every seat on the Republican side was vacant, the Republican Senators having concluded to give the Democrats a monopoly of the time to be used for speeches.

On the Senate reassembling, Mr. Bayard resumed his speech, and at 6:15 yielded to Mr. Cooper, who moved that the Senate adjourn. Rejected—yeas 21, nays 28.

Mr. Bayard then continued his speech to the close, when Mr. Maxey took the floor and spoke in opposition to the resolution of Mr. Anthony.

Before concluding, at 8 o'clock, he yielded to Mr. McDonald for a motion to adjourn.

Mr. Sherman inquired if the Senator (McDonald) could name any time when a vote could be taken if the Senate should agree now to adjourn.

Mr. McDonald replied that he could not.

Mr. Eaton said while the Senators on his side of the chamber had not arrived at any conclusion as to a day when a vote could be taken, he would say candidly that in his judgment, if the Senate would adjourn at a reasonable hour this evening, a vote would be reached just as soon as if the session should be continued.

Mr. Sherman said it was a matt r of vital importance to the Senators on both sides of the chamber to know when the Senate would adjourn. They had made engagements and wanted to go to their homes. If the Senators on the Democratic side would say when they would close the debate, he had no doubt a majority would agree to it. It seemed to him that Tuesday next might be fixed upon for final adjournment.

Mr. Bayard said he had no idea that anything but the most usual and orderly disposition of this resolution would be attempted by the Senators on his side of the chamber. If, when the resolution was brought in this morning, the usual course had been taken and an order made to have it printed and lay over, as usual, he had no doubt that on Monday or Tuesday the speeches would have been brief, and not dilatory to any extent. The reason it took him so long was on account of the want of time for preparation.

After further discussion Mr. Whyte offered a resolution authorizing the President pro tempore to declare the Senate adjourned sine die on Thursday next at noon.

Mr. Logan (sotto voce)—Not much!

Mr. Conkling called for the regular order, and a vote was taken on the motion of Mr. McDonald to adjourn. Rejected—yeas 20, nays 25.

Mr. Anthony said the majority proposed to give all the time for discussion to the other side, and if the Senators on that side would fix the time for taking a vote, they might adjourn when they pleased.

Mr. Maxey then resumed his remarks, and closed by saying that the resolution now before the Senate was a twin brother to the Pinchback resolution, and should be postponed with it.

Mr. Davis moved to amend the substitute by striking out the word "approve," and stated that it was his intention to insert the word "disapprove" if the amendment to strike out should be agreed to, so that the resolution should disapprove of the action of the President in protecting the Government in Louisiana of which W. P. Kellogg is executive, etc. Rejected—yeas 16, nays 23.

Mr. Kernan then took the floor, and was followed by Mr. Eaton, who yielded for a motion to adjourn, which was rejected—ayes 20, noes 24—when he continued his speech till ten o'clock, at which time Mr. McCreery renewed his motion to adjourn.

In making the motion, Mr. McCreery said the majority might sit this resolution out Tuesday night.

Mr. Anthony inquired if the Senator was authorized to make that agreement.

Mr. McCreery said so far as he was concerned he was willing.

Mr. Saulsbury (Del.) said it had been repeatedly asserted that the Democratic Senators did not desire to make any factious opposition, but their word had not been taken, and that fact would justify them in resorting to factious opposition, if they thought proper, though he did not say they would make such opposition.

Mr. Anthony said if the Senators on the other side would agree to take a vote on Wednesday, the Senators on his side would agree to adjournment now.

Mr. Bayard said he hoped the vote would not be postponed half so long as the time named, but the Democratic Senators would not bind themselves.

The motion of Mr. McCreery to adjourn was rejected—yeas 21, nays 26.

Mr. Eaton then resumed, and concluded at ten minutes past eleven, when Mr. Johnson (Tenn.) obtained the floor.

Mr. Anthony said if the Senator did not desire to proceed with his remarks to-night he would make a motion to adjourn.

Mr. Johnson replied that he was not anxious to go on to-night, and would yield for a motion to adjourn, and speak on Monday.

At the request of Mr. Logan, Mr. Anthony modified his motion so as to go into executive session, which was agreed to, and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

At 11:20 the doors were reopened, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

Senatorial Caucuses.

The Democratic Senators were in caucus this morning, and in anticipation of the action of the Republican majority, determined on the method of their opposition.

The Republican Senators agreed to refrain from discussing the caucus Louisiana resolution in the Senate, and also determined to vote against any recess or adjournment, except over Sunday, until a final vote shall have been taken. This course will, in all probability, insure the termination of the session within the next five or six days, and many persons think it will close by Wednesday.

Reward Revoked.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued a circular to-day, revoking a former reward for information leading to the forfeiture of a distillery not legally operated, and offering fifty dollars for information which shall lead to the seizure of any distillery of not less than forty gallons capacity and the arrest of the owner, the money to be paid upon presentation of the certificate of the collector of the district and District Attorney.

Democratic Fillibustering.

Democratic Senators, in their caucus consultation this evening, unanimously determined not to make any agreement or accede to any proposition fixing a definite term for closing the debate on the Louisiana question. They also decided not to make any merely factious opposition, but to insist upon their right to fully debate the pending resolution in the Senate.

Senator Johnson on the Pinchback Resolution.

Senator Johnson, of Tennessee, will now probably be heard from. He intended speaking on the Pinchback resolution, but changed his mind. This afternoon, however, he was busy looking up facts in the Louisiana question, his desk being covered with books and papers.

The Mission to Russia.

It was stated at the Capitol to-day by friends of ex-Senator Chandler that he had been tendered and would probably accept the mission to Russia. Geo. Boker, recently appointed, it is said, is about to decline.

Nominations.

John Parker has been nominated for United States Marshal for the Western District of Michigan, and Congressman Snyder for Postmaster at Pine Bluff, Arkansas.

WASHINGTON, March 21, 1875.

Decision in a Patent Case.

The Commissioner of Patents will to-morrow decide the question to whom the patent for a quadruplex telegraph instrument is to be issued. It is understood he decides it to be awarded to Edison & Prescott, on the ground that Edison's agreement with Harrington was made before the invention was in existence and his assignment to Prescott after it was completed. The Commissioner don't feel called upon to decide upon the question of the equities in the case.

Mail Contractors Fined.

An official document has been issued from the Government printing office showing that during the year 1874 the Postmaster General imposed fines and made deductions from the pay of contractors in about 1,800 cases of mail failures, &c. The largest fines and deductions were $395, $716 and $794. The others vary from fifty to twenty-five dollars, and only a few are over that amount.

Postage on Third Class Matter.

The Postmaster General has instructed postmasters that on all mailable matter of the third class, postage must be prepaid at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction thereof.

The Death of John Mitchel.

The Irish societies of this and neighboring cities are preparing for public meetings to express regret for the death of John Mitchel. The widow and daughter of Mr. Mitchel reside in Brooklyn, and were visited to-day by a number of persons condoling with them in their bereavement.

Funeral of Gen. Hancock's Daughter.

The funeral of the late Ada Elizabeth Hancock, daughter of Major General Hancock, took place this afternoon. Among the mourners were Chief Justice Daly, Richard Schell and other well-known citizens. The pall bearers were members of Gen. Hancock's staff. At the close of the services the body was taken to Morristown, Pa., for interment.

Dinners for the Tilton-Beecher Jury.

A bill of $419.25 has been presented to the Brooklyn Board of Supervisors for dinners furnished the twelve jurymen in the Tilton-Beecher case and three Court officers for forty-three days, beginning January 11th and ending March 12.

Guarding Plymouth Church.

An extra force of five officers has been detailed for duty at Plymouth Church to-morrow.

Walking Match.

The twenty mile walking match this evening between Dan O'Leary, of Chicago, and Wilson Reid, of this city, for one thousand dollars, was won by O'Leary in three hours, twenty-four minutes and fifteen seconds. Reid left the track exhausted on the sixteenth mile.

NEW YORK, March 21, 1875.

Annexation of the Northern States of Mexico.

The Mercury has a Washington dispatch alleging that the excursion of Senator Cameron and others to Mexico has for its object the annexation by purchase to the United States of the Northern States of that Republic. The Mexican authorities are understood to have already acquiesced to the transfer, the terms of which are yet to be settled. The territory proposed to be annexed is all that part of Mexico lying north of the Rio Rapido and the Rio Grande De Santiago, and comprises the States of Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nueva Leon, Sinoloa, Durango and Zacatecas, one-half of Tamaulipas, one-third of Jalisco, a small portion of San Luis Potosi, and the territory of Lower California, altogether about 438,000 square miles of territory and over a million and a half of population, of whom less than half a million are whites, the rest Indians and mixed. The boundary line will commence at the mouth of the Rapido, following that river to its source towards the town of Pinas, in latitude 22.35, longitude 101.70; thence to the source of the river Santiago, and along that stream to its mouth. The movement is understood to have originated with the Mexican authorities, who desire to see this sparsely settled country placed under a power possessing the means of enforcing order among its population and of inviting emigration thither.

The Murderer Sharkey.

The Herald's Havana special says the murderer Sharkey is to be delivered at Havana to an American detective, to be taken back to New York. The correspondent says Sharkey was furnished money by ex-Congressman John Fox to get away from Cuba to South America. The Spanish minister at Washington says although there is no extradition treaty between the two countries, there is every probability a request to his Government from Secretary Fish for the return of Sharkey will be complied with.

No Time to Leave America.

The following was transmitted by cable to-day in reply to a dispatch inviting Rev. Talmage to visit England:

"Rev. D. L. Moody, London.—I cannot come. There is a great awakening in my church. This is no time for Evangelical ministers to leave America.

WOOSTER UNIVERSITY has 225 students, exclusive of the medical department.

YOUNGSTOWN is to have two miles of street railroad. Work is soon to begin on it.

ABOUT $11,000 has been subscribed towards building a new Methodist church at Cadiz.

A LOT of loafers were giving a Bucyrus bridal party a charivari, the other evening, when the bridegroom appeared among them and fired the contents of a revolver in their midst. All of them left but one, who had so much lead in him that he couldn't.

IT appears from the report of the Secretary of State that the six counties in Ohio having the largest amount of cultivated lands are: Richland, 219,363 acres; Seneca, 177,718 acres; Wayne, 169,588 acres; Fairfield, 140,567 acres, and Montgomery 139,751 acres.

WEST VIRGINIA ITEMS.

TWENTY-SIX counties in this State are represented in the Penitentiary at Moundsville. Kanawha has eleven and Wood ten prisoners. Wirt has none.

AT Cotton Hill, West Virginia, Sunday morning, while Peter King, Buck McGuire, and G. B. Hazlet, of that place, John Thackery, of Urbana, Ohio, and Hugh Swope, of Union county, Ohio, were in a skiff riding on New river, the boat, owing to the very rough water, became unmanageable and was upset, drowning the six men. All were under it. When it turned over again only two men were seen clinging to it. It continued to turn, one man giving out after floating a mile and the other man a few minutes afterward. Neither the boat nor the bodies of the men have as yet been recovered. Several persons have met their deaths the same way at that place within the past few months.

University Boat Race.

LONDON, March 20.—The University boat race took place on the Thames to-day. The usual crowd was present. When the boats took the water the Cambridge crew rowed a quicker stroke than their opponents, and led them to Crabtree, one mile and two furlongs from the starting point. Here the Oxford crew made a spurt and drew up level with the Cantabs, and at Hammersmith bridge, four furlongs further on, was a length ahead. At Barnes' Terrace, five furlongs from the stake boat, the dark blues were six lengths ahead. From this point the distance between the two boats rapidly widened, and the Oxfords came in winner by ten lengths, amid deafening shouts of friends of the crew. The Cambridge boat was badly steered throughout the race.

LONDON, March 21.—The time of the winners of the University boat race yesterday is officially announced at twenty-two minutes and two seconds.

The Religious Revival.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey preached this morning, afternoon and evening at Agricultural Hall. At the three meetings the audiences numbered respectively 16,000, 14,000 and 19,000. There was some confusion in consequence of the vast crowds in and around the hall, especially in the evening.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Herald's Acapulco correspondent gives the details of a terrible religious massacre in that town on the night of January 20th. Rev. Mr. Hutchinson, pastor of the Presbyterian congregation of the City of Mexico, was invited to Acapulco last year by a lawyer named Procopio Diaz and others to organize a new congregation, the nucleus of which already existed nearly a year. Finding no suitable substitute, Hutchinson came down in December and took temporary charge of the new Church. About ninety persons were found desirous of embracing the new doctrine, and an old vacant Catholic church was rented, and on the 24th of January was opened in due form, Hutchinson preaching twice that day. During the previous month threats had been thrown out by the adherents of Catholicity against the religious opponents. The former claim to have been systematically insulted by Protestants, who had a small newspaper organ. The latter energetically deny that they had done anything more than fairly discuss sectarian dogmas. A prayer meeting was held by Hutchinson on the evening of the 25th, and a similar gathering was agreed on for the following evening. This meeting was held, but Hutchinson was ill, and unable to be present. The Protestant church has only two doors, both opening on the street. One was closed and the other, that nearer to town, open. In front of the door, between it and the street, an umbrageous tree grows. Under the shade of this tree, and at either side of the door, watching the proceedings within the church, the assassins, numbering some thirty-five or forty men, took their stand. Procopio Diaz had addressed the congregation in place of the absent minister, and they were singing a hymn, when eight or ten of the cut-throats outside entered, and dividing among themselves, occupied stands near either side of the pulpit. Without any sign of warning whatever these incarnate devils bared their murderous machetes and commenced an indiscriminate slaughter of the peaceful inmates of the church. Not entirely indiscriminate, for the leader of the murderers and one of his men marked out Diaz as their victim. A couple of machete blows were aimed at his head, which, if received in full force, must have terminated his existence. As it happened, he had sufficient presence of mind to dodge his head behind the pulpit, and a portion of the board was cut through before the weapon reached its mark. He drew a pistol and tried to fire, but his assailants were too quick for him, and the leader inflicted a ghastly gash on his pistol hand. While this was passing, the heroic wife of Diaz picked up a chair, rushed upon one of her husband's would-be murderers, pinned him to the wall, and by main force wrenched the machete from his bloody hands. With this she defended herself and hastened to the aid of Diaz. Perceiving a favorable opportunity she said to her husband: "Now, fire." He did so, and fatally shot the leader. Within the church a bloody and murderous hand-to-hand fight was waged for six or eight minutes. The machete was wielded with fearful effect, human flesh cut and gashed like bullock meat, while the blood streamed in torrents over the floor, now encumbered by dying or wounded men and women. Ten or a dozen shots were fired, a few from the assailed, some of whom had revolvers.

At the commencement of the onslaughter those who were near the door attempted to escape. This was a fatal mistake, for as the frightened worshippers gained the street they were deliberately cut down by ambushed ruffians stationed on both sides of the door outside. In this way the American citizen, Henry Morris, met his death. His head was nearly severed from the body by a machete blow, and his chest cut open at a single stroke. He and two other men and a woman were killed outright and eleven wounded more or less severely, of whom several have since died. Morris was a colored man from Boston. He leaves a wife and several children.

The massacre commenced about ten minutes after eight o'clock and lasted only six or eight minutes. The first news the authorities had of it was from a wounded man called Juan El Negro, who made his way to the Plaza and a [illegible] store. There [illegible] met by Major Francisco Mejia, commander of a few Federal troops, stationed about at Acapulco. Mejia at once started on the run to the scene of action, some four hundred yards off, and a few minutes later the town police, followed soon after by Federal troops from the castle, were on the ground. More than five minutes could not have elapsed from the closing of the battle to the time when the authorities reached their posts. As usual in such cases, the police and allies came too late. They got to the fatal field only in time to pick up the dead and wounded, but not early enough to arrest upon the spot or follow up any one who could be immediately recognized as a participant in the dreadful tragedy. One of the assassins, who was desperately wounded and could not get out of the way, was taken into custody and placed in close confinement. His deposition has been taken, in which, of course, it appeared he figured as a spectator only. A couple of the wounded men were apprehended, but as nobody has appeared to implicate them, the prosecution may be looked upon as abandoned.

SPELLING MATCHES.

Some Practical Hints on Spelling Tournaments from a Rural Schoolmaster.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The spelling matches which have recently become so popular, will undoubtedly be a very effective agency in correcting the bad orthography of many persons who now have the reputation of being good scholars. They will certainly show how creditable good spelling is. They also afford a very rational entertainment; and hence they well may deserve encouragement. Having had much experience in the old fashioned spelling schools in my numerous engagements in rural teaching, I will offer some practical hints on the management of these spelling tournaments.

1. When a premium is offered for the champion speller, all of the spellers may be arranged in a class, and then captains will not be needed. When all have retired (because of their misspelling) except one, his name should be noted, and the whole class called up for another trial. If the same person again be last to retire, he should be declared victor; if another person, there should be a third trial. Then, if either the first or second be the last to retire, that one should take the premium. If a third one should then be the last to keep his place, there should be a trial with these three. The most difficult words in use then might be offered to them.

2. If, however, the plan of "choosing sides" is preferred, the spellers should all keep their places (not retiring on mistakes) during the match, and a scorer should be appointed to keep account of the mistakes made on one side and corrected on the other. Thus a word missed on one side and spelled on the other should be scored one to its credit. A word may be tried several times on each side before it is correctly spelled. This need not be noted; but if it is spelled correctly on the side where first missed, it should be considered redeemed, and then need not be scored. At the close of the match the report of the scorer should be announced.

3. It would be appropriate for the captain of the victorious company to receive a lot of little presents to distribute to his spellers when the contest is finished; or the prize spelling might be confined to his company. If this plan be deemed too exclusive, both companies might be formed into one class to compete for the premium.

4. There should be one or two persons inside of the door, who should ask all persons entering whether they wish to engage in the spelling, and if so, take their names. These names should be presented to the captains or managers, thus enabling readily to form the class or choose their spellers.

Each speller should repeat his word after the pronouncer before spelling it. Indistinct utterance should be regarded the same as misspelling. It might be well to have an umpire, who should have by him a Webster's unabridged. A speller should have the right to demand the definition when words with the same pronunciation have different meanings. Viz.:—Counselor, an advisor. Councilor, a member of a council. Permissible, what may be permitted. Permisceable, that may be mixed; and many others.

6. More attention ought to be given to the spelling of proper names; names of men and women, geographical names, Scripture names, scientific terms, &c.

The ingenuity of managers may adopt or modify these hints, or devise other regulations, and thus the interest in spelling may be maintained till a great amount of benefit shall be derived from these matches.

A spelling match is to be held here this evening, in which proper names found in the Gospel according to Luke are to be used.

MR. WESLEY CALUMNIATED.

Gen. Tracy's Comparison Between Beecher and Wesley.

[From the Western Christian Advocate, March 17.]

Since the trial of Mr. Beecher began in Brooklyn, we have strictly complied with Judge Neilson's request to the press to "refrain from comment." We have thought the duty of silence and neutrality was incumbent on papers in the West as well as those in the East. It was partly this motive, and partly in the belief that few, if any, intelligent persons would be misled, which induced us to pass in silence Gen. Tracy's very uncalled for and very unjust reference to Mr. Wesley in his opening speech for the defense. Having once passed it in silence, certainly we should not at this date, recall the matter, calumnious and unjust as General Tracy's statement was, if we had not information from a trustworthy source that intelligent people are being misled into the belief that there is some parallelism between the case of Mr. Beecher and that of Mr. Wesley.

No doubt General Tracy is correct in saying that eminent clergymen have before now been the victims of unfounded accusations. But he is not correct, and he is guilty of a great outrage on the memory of a great and good man, and on the feelings of millions of people now living, when he says that the charge which, as he alleges, was "spread broadcast over England," and was "suffered to pass without any public reply for twenty years," was in any respect the parallel of that which has been made against Mr. Beecher, and is now in course of investigation. No person ever alleged any knowledge of any, the slightest, impropriety of conduct on his part. The whole matter is in a nutshell—a jealous wife, who, on that subject at least, was insane, imagined that, because so many women were writing to Mr. Wesley for religious counsel and instruction, there must exist some impropriety. Maddened by this jealousy, she endeavored to create a scandal. But her allegations were so palpably absurd, were so generally disbelieved, except by those who were ready to believe anything against Mr. Wesley, and the relationship of the offending party was such that Mr. Wesley deemed it expedient to commit his name and cause to the good sense of mankind. But what is there in this like the case of Mr. Beecher? Absolutely nothing; and General Tracy committed a grave offense in instituting the comparison. But he was guilty of a still darker offense when he affirmed that "it was by means of an insinuation that he had made improper advances that a persecution was kindled against him in Georgia." There is not a word of truth in all this. Far from it; the allegation was just this: that he had transgressed his prerogative as a minister of the Church of England, in refusing the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to a lady related to some of the principal personages in the colony. We hope General Tracy has the manliness and candor to correct so gross a mistake which is doing injury, and wounds the feelings of millions of people.

German in the Public Schools.

A very large meeting was held at Cooper Institute last evening, to protest against the exclusion of German from the Public Schools. The line of argument adopted was the same that has been held hitherto by the advocates of ornamental instruction at the public expense. It is all good and true, but we respectfully submit that it does not touch the main point. No doubt it would be a great gain if every child in the land could speak and write German, and if they were also thoroughly acquainted with the literature of that renowned country, but the same line of argument can be applied with as good effect to the Italian, French, Spanish, and Scandinavian languages. In that case, who shall say where the pursuit of this species of literary culture is to end? The German immigrant of to-day speaks his mother tongue, but his child will speak the universal language of America. So will the descendants of other immigrants. Then the question arises as to how far the authorities should go in giving instruction in branches that have ceased to be necessary. Thence we come down to the matter of dollars and cents, and it may be fairly asked—and the question may be fairly pushed—as to how far the property owners are willing to be taxed for the education of children? The original design of the founders of the common school system was to give every boy and girl such an elementary education as would enable them to hold their own in the ordinary transaction of life. They had no intention to interfere with private schools, academies, and colleges, and least of all to burden the taxpayers with the support of such institutions. It is the opinion of many thoughtful men that we should return to this primitive system as soon as possible, thus achieving the double purpose of lightening expenses and putting an end to the dispute over the studies that should be pursued in our public schools. Under the present system the primary school receives the least attention; in old times it was the sum and centre of the system. Have we shown ourselves wiser than our ancestors, in the change?—*N. Y. JOHN MITCHELL, the Irish agitator, who who was expelled from the British Parliament and re-elected, is dead.

THE resolution, approving of the course of the President with reference to Louisiana, has been adopted by the Republican Senatorial caucus.

THE Water Works difficulty is made the occasion of many remarks, of one kind or other. The idea of renting out the works is started, as a relief from impending trouble. We do not see how this can be done without law, any more than the money can be borrowed without it. We judge we must pay $250,000 of useless interest because of the freak of our South Side legislators, who possibly desire the sale of their home water works.

THE sleety weather of the past few weeks ought, if the usual rule holds good, to give us an ample supply of fruit during the ensuing Summer. The theory is, that the sleet retards the growth of the buds, and as these are thus held back until the weather becomes settled, they are not frozen, and hence become productive of fruit. A good fruit season will be fully appreciated, and everything that contributes to that end, however disagreeable just at the present, will be welcomed in the end.

THE conviction of Meyers, on Saturday, of murder in the first degree, as accomplice in the murder of Wahl, places both the persons tried in the position of candidates for hanging. The only duty now remaining is to sentence, and we hope no time will be lost, unnecessarily, in completing the process of law in their cases. The more prompt the execution of murderers, the better the effect on the public. Swift punishment alone, will break up the murderous tendency so remarkably developed, of late, in this county.

THE fifth annual report of the Board of Commissioners of Public Charities of the State of Pennsylvania, to which is appended the report of the General Agent and Secretary, has been furnished us through the courtesy of the Board. It is a volume of four hundred and seventy pages of valuable information on the workings and management of the benevolent institutions of the State. The General Agent's report contains some suggestions in regard to needed measures of reform in several directions, which are worthy the attention of all interested in such institutions; but as a whole, the Commissioners regard the public charities well managed.

THE Chicago Tribune thus concludes an article on the Third Term: "We exchange with nearly every Republican paper in the United States of any note, and with the exception of a small organ of cheap office-holders and beggars around Washington, there is not one Republican paper which favors a third term. Even those papers which are edited and controlled by postmasters dare not offend the universal sentiment among Republicans, by advocating, even indirectly, a third term. Under these circumstances of the origin of the story, its use by the Democrats to prejudice the country against the President and the Republican party, and the signal failure of all those who have attempted a Third Term party, is it not time that the whole nonsensical business was buried, and the Republican party relieved of all thought of any further discussion on the question?"

THE difficulty in reference to the new postal law seems likely to be met by the Postmaster General deferring its operation, so far as transient papers are concerned, until Congress meets in December. It is manifest that it was not intended that transient papers should be included, and as the validity of a law depends on the intention of the law-maker, there is entire propriety in deferring the operation of this law. It is, we think, to be regretted that our postal laws cannot be matured with sufficient care to remain unchanged on the statute books. There is too much readiness in all the fiscal operations of our Government, to change laws to meet temporary exigencies. If money accumulates, laws are changed to reduce the volume of income from a given source. If it falls short, there is an equal tendency to add on to taxes of one kind or other. This changefulness operates detrimentally to the prosperity of the country in many particulars, and were better abandoned.

A NICE point will be raised when the Legislature assembles next year. The House assumed that the session to be then held will be a continuation of that just closed, and that the business left unfinished, can then be taken up and completed. The Senate held, that inasmuch as there would be a dozen changes in that body eleven by limitation of time, nothing but new business should be taken up. Under the new Constitution, the Senators to be elected next year will have but a single year to serve, while those to be elected in 1876 will have four years' terms, that will begin with those of the members of the House. Then there will be no difficulty. Now each body can act its own pleasure. If the Senate shall choose to disregard the views of the House, it can simply refuse to consider the old bills that may be taken up and passed by that body, and merely pass upon new measures. The result will be to bring on ill-feeling, probably, but this does not usually occasion serious injury. It simply operates to prevent partisan legislation, but does not interfere with measures that are of public importance.

GARIBALDI is earnestly engaged in ascertaining if the Tiber cannot be brought under control, and prevented from inundating the city of Rome from time to time, as has been its wont. He proposes the construction of a canal from a point above the city to the sea—using in the construction, whenever it is possible, the bed of the river. He would make this canal five hundred feet wide, thirty-three feet deep and about twenty-five miles long. From Rome to Ostia, at the mouth of the river, it is, as the bird flies, about fifteen kilometres, but by the line of the river it is twice as far. He proposes to make Rome thus a port of entry, to which large vessels may come. The estimate for the work is thirty million francs. It is claimed that this plan will overcome the malaria now experienced in the Roman campagna. Just what effect the improvement of the river will have on this is debatable question. It is argued that "in wet seasons there is less fever than at other times, for the presence of water longer or later than usual seems to interfere with those operations by which the heat of the sun acts on the vegetation in producing malaria. If, therefore, Garibaldi's canal prevents the overflow of the plain it may for several years produce malaria of a more violent type than has been previously known there, and this change may continue until the inhabitants, if any can be attracted, shall work out of the earth by agriculture the accumulated poison of many centuries. Engineers can certainly prevent the inundation of Rome, but the redemption of the Campagna from maleria is less certain." It is, however, interesting to know that Garibaldi, the dreaded, is seeking to become the material regenerator of Rome.

THE wonderful shrewdness and craft that characterize Russian diplomacy has received a fresh illustration in the recent discussion relative to Central Asian affairs. When she was engaged in her Khivan campaign, Lord Granville grew nervous lest she should trench upon British India, and called for a statement of her boundaries on the India side of Central Asia. Gortschakoff entertained the British Minister with an erudite discussion of geography, until it was ascertained that the route to India by way of the Oxus was undesirable, owing to the shallowness of that river. He then secured the cession, from Persia, of the valley of the Attrek, along which there is a perfectly easy road to Herat, an outpost of the British. At the same time, by money and influence, she induced the Shah of Persia to refuse to complete his agreement with Baron Reuter, to build railroads and telegraphs in Persia, and substituted a Russian company, which is pledged to build a railroad from Tiflis to Djulfa, on the Persian frontier, where it connects with a Persian line. Thus while temporizing with England, she fully arranges a new and better route whereby her troops can be forwarded to British India, more speedily and safely than by the Oxus route, which she quietly gives up.

THE meeting of the bondholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad, at New York, a few days since, was largely attended, and very amicable in spirit. General Cass presented a full statement of the condition of the road, showing $31,500,000 of bonds outstanding, on which some interest had accrued. The proposition made was, for the bondholders to surrender their bonds, receiving in exchange preferred stock of the Company. This would give a basis of credit, on which other bonds could be issued, and thus the work of completing the road could be again begun. There remain 1,450 miles of road to be built, which will cost about $40,000,000, and when completed the Company will have 30,000,000 additional acres of land. The proposition was not acted on, but a committee of bondholders was resolved on, who are to thoroughly examine the affairs of the Company, and mature a proposition, in case that made shall prove unacceptable to them. Thus the matter stands. It will be immensely important to have this line of road completed; and if no better plan offers, we do not see that the bondholders can do better than accept preferred stock. It is certainly better to hold the preferred stock of a completed road, than the bonds of one that merely extends to the Missouri river.

THE VERDICT.

The entrusting of power to the Democracy in this State to control one branch of the Legislature, was regarded with far more interest by the country than it intrinsically merited. It was an experiment that had in it large possibilities. They had been under the cloud many years, and had been so disciplined, apparently, by adversity, that they were full of promises of good behavior. More than this, they assumed to promise reforms, so far as their power admitted. There had been much outcry against the course of certain of the leaders of the Republican party; and while much of this lacked definiteness, it impressed the people rather because of the pertinacity with which it was kept up, than from any clear evidence of its truth. Thus, when the Democracy had given into its care the Lower House of the Legislature, it was expected that it would show an earnest devotion to the public welfare, which would attest the sincerity of its declarations, and a propriety of deportment that would put to blush the best deeds of the Republicans. Thus it came into power amid great expectations.

There is a disposition to apologize for its selections of Speaker and Clerks on the theory that not having been in power for a long time, it could not be expected to know precisely who were best fitted for those responsible positions. Admit this, and it still is true that the worst principle of partisanship was adopted in their selection. Location had far more to do with the choice made than personal fitness. Thus it was early determined that the Speaker should come from Allegheny county, the Clerk from the East, and the minor officials from such geographical points as the rule of partisan success should determine. The root of much of the political corruption of the times is in this policy. The argument of weak and corrupt men is always in favor of locality, while that of reform is that the qualities of the person to fill a given office are of first importance. The fact that the Democracy accepted the corrupt method, in the first movement made toward the distribution of power, shows that they have not outgrown their old corruptions. The failure of Mr. Patterson as Speaker, and the absolute stupidity of the clerks, was secondary to the other fact, that the method adopted for the distribution of power was vicious and corrupt.

The only claim to merit what we have seen is that of an attempted examination into the State Treasurer's Department. This claim would be perfectly valid, were it not that the movement was permeated with the grossest partisanship. It is a well-known fact that the reprehensible practice of loaning the State funds was begun by McGrath, the Democratic State Treasurer, and while the Democracy proposed to examine the management of the Treasury during the terms of Kemble, Irwin and Mackey, they stoutly resisted the proposition to include McGrath in the list. It thus became evident that their motive was partisan, not reformatory. This was further shown in the plan to go back over several administrations. The object was not, professedly, to see whether the State moneys are now secure, or the Treasury rightly managed, but whether during several years past, anything occurred that can be used detrimentally to the Republican party. Nor was the movement to be jointly made, with the Senate, the two Houses represented on the Committee, but it was a concurrrent resolution to permit the Democracy of the House to do it! The impudence of this refreshing proposition is equal to anything in that line we have seen for years.

At the outset of the session, resolutions of a grossly partisan and insulting character were passed, an example of discourtesy which we are glad to say, the Senate did not follow. The resistance of Republicans was inspired by the insults thus wantonly given. We fully justify the course of the minority in the House on this ground. It was their right, when insulting resolutions were flaunted in their faces, to resist them by all the means which parliamentary usage gave them. It was thus that the authority of the Speaker fell into contempt. In order to help forward the petty partisanship that was so rampantly displayed at the outset, he at times ruled in positive violation of parliamentary law, and thus destroyed his influence with the minority. At the close there was a wild rush to pass bills, that a good showing might be made, and if there was no mischievous legislation, it was because the Senate was forward with its work, and prepared to deliberately scrutinize the work of the House. The Democracy came out of the Legislature shorn of every item of credit.

THE new License law unconditionally repeals all the results of Local Option, and licenses may at once be granted in all the boroughs and counties which had, by a popular vote, decided to have no licensed drinking houses. The bill excepts boroughs and counties where there are absolute prohibitory laws specially passed by the Legislature. Potter county can grant no licenses because an act of the Legislature forbids it, and there are a number of boroughs in the State where such laws are in force, and they will remain until repealed by the authority that enacted them.—Phila. Times.

ON THE 16th the homestead of the Astor family was sold at auction at the Real Estate Exchange rooms, in Trinity Building, New York, for $97,500. The house is an old land-mark. It is four stories high and has a plain exterior. A Mr. J. B. Potter was the purchaser, and it is said he got a bargain.

A WASHINGTON correspondent says that some of the matrimonial results of the winter are announced. Rumor says that Miss Florence Jewell, youngest daughter of the handsome Postmaster-General, is engaged to a naval officer. Mr. Rufus Hatch is to marry Miss Josephine Chesney, and Miss Annie Jeffers is to marry a foreigner. It is also said that the son of Senator Howe is engaged to his opposite neighbor, Miss Ella Ray.

THE colored Senator from Mississippi—Branch K. Bruce—is a very good-looking colored man. He is several shades darker than Fred. Douglass, and is, perhaps, a three-quarters blood. He is of the medium height, and rather inclined to be stout. He has a large-sized head; his face is broad and dignified looking. A black, wiry, stout moustache and goatee ornament the lower part of his face.

JOHN BIMPSON, a wealthy manufacturer of Quincy, Ill., left that place six years ago for Europe, with two daughters, and was supposed to have sailed on the ship United Kingdom, which was never heard from. News is now received that Bimpson and his daughters are active and coming home. In the meantime Mrs. Bimpson had collected $5,000 life insurance on Mr. Bimpson's policy, married again, and has a child by her second husband.

ABRAHAM COHN, aged 81 years, died in Lancaster on Thursday afternoon. Deceased had been a soldier under Napoleon I. Afterward he joined the combined army of Germany, and participated in the triumphal entry of the German army into Paris in 1814. He was eminently a man of letters—learned in the Hebrew, French, and German languages, and during the latter years of his life in Europe was a distinguished Rabbi in the Jewish Church.

AT length the spirit has moved some one to say a good word for Senator Hamlin for his efforts in increasing the postage rates. The Indianapolis Sentinel gracefully remarks: "Hannibal Hamlin is the man who is responsible for doubling the postage upon transient newspapers. It is well that Hannibal has done something at last, even if it be nothing more than make a fool of himself. The American people were beginning to think that the old publit functionary, celled Hannibal Hamlin, was nothing but a cunningly contrived pine figure-head stolen from some New England fishing smack. It is a surprise to find that the thing has even a capacity for sinning."

ASIA MINOR.

The Famine More Extensive Than Commonly Believed—Sixty Towns and Villages Suffering—A Terrible State of Affairs.

The famine in Asia Minor, of which we have heard only vague reports in this country, appears to have been more extensive than commonly believed. It seems there are no less than sixty small towns and villages in the district which has suffered most by the visitation, and if those mentioned, in a late report of the Anglo-American Relief Committee, are a fair sample of the rest, the condition of their unfortunate inhabitants must have been truly heartrending. At Karajali, a place returned as containing 800 persons a year ago, 355 are reported to have died, and nearly 100 more to have wandered away in the almost hopeless search for food. There had been a manufacture of leather in the place, and the survivors, it is reported, have subsisted largely on the stocks of untanned skins, boiled down with wild herbs. At Akali, spoken of as a really flourishing town before the famine, a population of 1,200 persons has been reduced to one-half, there being nearly 500 deaths recorded, besides losses by emigration. Unburied bodies lie about, and raise a dreadful odor; and the palid appearance of the survivors, many of them hopelessly ill, shows that fever is, as usual, following hard on the steps of famine and misery. The members of the committee were informed that only three herd of cattle were left out of more than 200 previously owned in this part of the district, and the goats and sheep which formerly abounded had all disappeared. At Yuva, a much smaller and poorer place, more than half the population of 300 was reported dead, and the remainder had no visible means whatever of supporting existence. At Karajali again there were more unburied bodies found, and many of the survivors appeared past all help, some being too weak in body to aid in the distribution of supplies offered, and others perfectly imbecile in mind from suffering or the effects of fever. At Hassandaidi not only was the population of 400 reduced one-half, but their dwellings had suffered similarly, the survivors pulling down and burning—to keep warmth in themselves through the December cold—the huts of the families that had been swept away. Finally, at Denekmadeni, the chief place of the suffering district of Keskin, of which we are speaking particularly, and the residence of its head magistrate, the former thriving and industrious population of over three thousand souls was reduced a full third; and of the families left, scarcely one-twentieth part had the means of keeping body and soul together till the next harvest comes round. Tales of suicide and of the slaughter of infants, and other like horrors, met inquiry at every point. If it be asked what the Turkish authorities are doing, the answer is that the most substantial relief has been in the way of distributing surplus military clothing from the Government stores at Constantinople. Over 10,000 men and boys have thus been clad after a fashion. But of help in food very little has reached the sufferers from Constantinople, or from the Turkish Committee which undertook to procure subscriptions among the Mahommedans. One of the chief difficulties of the Anglo-American Committee has been the unhappy tendency of the head magistrates to represent their several districts as not really famine-stricken, out of fear of ministerial condemnation of themselves.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

[No. 3.]

AN ORDINANCE—To Carry Out the provisions of Section 6 of an act of Assembly entitled "An Act dividing the cities of this State into three classes, regulating the passage of ordinances, providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities, &c.," approved the 23d day of May, A. D. 1874; also providing for the publishing of the Municipal Record.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the City Controller shall, immediately after the passage of this Ordinance, and on the first Tuesday of February annually thereafter, by advertisements in the official newspapers of the city for at least two weeks before the letting herein provided for, invite sealed proposals for contracts to do the newspaper printing, job printing and binding, the publishing of the Municipal Record, and to furnish stationery, paper and fuel necessary for the use of Councils and the various departments of the city government.
That seperate proposals shall be invited and separate contracts awarded for newspaper printing, publishing the Municipal Record, and for fuel; but stationery and paper may be taken together, as well as job printing and binding, and be included in one proposal and contract.
The proposals for contracts shall be addressed to the City Controller, and by him transferred to the chairman of the committee having the letting of the same, at or before 12 o'clock at noon of the day provided for the letting of the said contracts. That each of said proposals shall be accompanied by a bond, with two sufficient sureties, in double the amount of the bid conditioned for the faithful performance of the obligations of such contract, said bond to be approved by the City Attorney.
SEC. 2. That the Printing Committee shall let the contracts for newspaper printing, publishing the Municipal Record, job printing and binding; and the contract for stationery and paper shall be let by the Finance Committee, and the City Property Committee shall let the contracts for fuel. All of said contracts shall be subject to approval of Councils.
SEC. 3. That all contracts as aforesaid shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, and in case of a failure to comply with the conditions of the letting of the contracts herein provided, the same shall be awarded to the next lowest responsible bidder.
SEC. 4. That all contracts awarded and approved under this ordinance, and all bonds given for their faithful performance, shall be filed with the City Controller, who shall keep a record of the same.
SEC. 5. That the maximum prices for newspaper printing, publishing the Municipal Record, stationery and paper, shall be, and are hereby declared to be, such prices as the City Controller shall specify in his advertisements for a contract as aforesaid.
SEC. 6. That if any necessity shall hereafter arise for any item of furnishing or supplies not embraced in the contracts authorized by this ordinance the City Controller shall advertise for proposals in the manner hereinbefore directed, for a special contract, and all such proposals shall be referred to the Committee having the letting of such contracts.
SEC. 7. That this ordinance shall not be deemed to operate to invalidate any existing valid contract entered into by the City of Pittsburgh, but shall take effect in such case immediately after the expiration of the limitation of such contract.
SEC. 8. That no member or officer of Councils, or of any department of the City Government, shall be in any way interested in such contracts, directly or indirectly, either at its inception, or during the progress of its fulfillment, or furnish any materials or supplies for such contracts.
Ordained and enacted into a law in Councils this 22d day of February, A. D. 1875.

ORDINANCES.

PITTSBURGH.

[No. 5.]

AN ORDINANCE—Levying Taxes, Assessing Water Rents and making Appropriations for the year 1875.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same. That for the purpose of providing sufficient revenue to meet the ordinary expenses of the city, to pay the interest on outstanding bonds, and to discharge all other liabilities now due, or which may become payable during said year 1875, taxes shall be and are hereby levied and assessed upon all property and other objects of taxation, as follows:

1. City Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes, three and one-half mills upon each dollar of valuation, except the property in said city designated as rural, upon which the tax shall be assessed at two-thirds of said rate: which exception, however, shall have force and effect only as far shall be as it is not affected, annulled or limited by the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of Kitty Roup vs. the City of Pittsburgh, and in the event of any of said designated rural property being removed from the rural class by said decision, that such property shall then be assessed with the full rate of taxation.

2. Fire Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes, one mill upon each dollar of valuation, except the property in said city designated as rural, upon which the tax shall be assessed at two-thirds of said rate, which exception, however, shall have force and effect only as far as it is not affected, annulled or limited by the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Kitty Roup vs. the City of Pittsburgh, and in the event of any of said designated rural property being removed from the rural class by said decision, that such property shall then be assessed with the full rate of taxation.

3. Water Works Interest Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes, one and one-third mills upon each dollar of valuation, except the property in said city designated as rural, upon which the tax shall be assessed at two-thirds of said rate, which exception, however, shall have force and effect only as far as it is not affected, annulled or limited by the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Kitty Roup vs. the City of Pittsburgh, and in the event of any of said designated rural property being removed from the rural class by said decision that such property shall then be assessed with the full rate of taxation.

4. Sinking Fund Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes, one mill upon each dollar of valuation, except the property in said city designated as rural, upon which the tax shall be assessed at two-thirds of said rate, which exception, however, shall have force and effect only as far as it is not affected, annulled or limited by the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in the case of Kitty Roup vs. the City of Pittsburgh, and in the event of any of said designated rural property being removed from the rural class by said decision, that such property shall then be assessed with the full rate of taxation.

5. Old City Special Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes within the limits of the City of Pittsburgh, as it existed prior to the consolidation, under the Act of April, 1867, three-fourths of one mill upon each dollar of valuation, as a special tax for the separate indebtedness of said district.

6. Lawrenceville Special Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes within the limits of the former Borough of Lawrenceville, one mill upon each dollar of valuation, as a special tax for the separate indebtedness of said district.

7. South Side Special Tax.—Upon all property taxable for State or county purposes within the limits of the former Borough of Ormsby, one mill; East Birmingham, two and one-half mills; St. Clair, one mill; Allentown, one-third of one mill; Mt. Washington, one mill; Union, one-sixth of one mill; Temperanceville, three mills, and four mills to pay annual installments on bonds issued since consolidation, for grading and paving Main street in said borough; Birmingham, one mill, to redeem bonds and pay interest on same, issued since consolidation, for grading and paving, under old borough laws.

8. Upon all goods, wares and merchandise, and upon all articles of trade and commerce sold in said city in any manner, not herein otherwise provided for, one and one-fourth mills upon each dollar of sales.

9. Upon all sales of goods, wares and merchandise and articles of trade or commerce sold by commission merchants in said city, one and one-fourth mills upon each dollar of said sales.

10. Upon the actual yearly sales of each and every person or firm engaged in the trade, business or occupation of retailing for his, her, or their benefit, vinous, fermented, or distilled liquors, twelve mills on each dollar of said sales.

11. Upon the actual yearly sales of each and every person or firm engaged in the business or occupation of an auctioneer, two mills upon each dollar of said sales.

12. Upon the gross commission or brokerage of all merchandise brokers, forwarding and commission merchants, not including commissions on sales, fifteen mills on each dollar of said commissions.

13. Upon the average line of discounts of brokers, banks and banking institutions, one mill on each dollar.

14. Upon the gross receipts of insurance companies, insurance agencies, express companies and telegraph companies, three mills upon each dollar of said receipts.

15. Upon the gross receipts of persons engaged in the business of keeping billiard tables, ten-pin alleys or bagatelle tables for public use, fifteen mills upon each dollar of said receipts.

SEC. 2. And at the above rates the City Assessor shall assess said taxes.

SEC. 3. And at the following rates the Water Assessor shall assess water rents:

First.—The schedule of water rents for the year 1875, shall be increased twenty-five per centum over assessment of 1874.

SEC. 4. That the amount necessary to pay the interest on the separate indebtedness of the old city and the Borough of Lawrenceville and South Side Boroughs, shall be taken from the receipts from the special taxes of the districts aforesaid, and placed in Appropriation No. 1, on which warrants shall be drawn for all interest accruing or accrued on the debts of said districts, respectively.

SEC. 5. That the balance of said receipts from said special taxes (after payment of interest) shall be paid into a sinking fund for the district from which it is collected, and shall be used for the payment of the special debt of said district.

SEC. 6. That the revenue of said city for the year 1875, arising from taxes, loans and all other sources, together with any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, are hereby appropriated for the following purposes:

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, March 22, 1875.

The drain of money to the East has reduced the supply of money at our banks, but not to an extent to at all prevent them from accommodating their customers, to any necessary extent. The demand, however, from our home customers of the banks, is very limited, and is easily met by the banks. In the line of current business there was a very moderate amount transacted on Saturday, partly because of the disagreeable character of the day, and partly because of business stagnation. There is more than the usual number of closing out sales, in the stores of the city,—a fact difficult of interpretation. It may be naturally taken as indicating that business of a mercantile character is not prosperous at the present.

—There is still much said of impaired business prospects, at the east and west. The New York Herald in a leading editorial on the subject, says: There are good reasons for the assertion that the great commercial revulsion under which industry and enterprise have been prostrate for so many months has at last spent its force and that business of all kinds is about to revive. We propose to state below a few of the facts that lead to this belief, and justify the hope that the year 1875 will mark the beginning of a new era of general prosperity.

We abbreviate the points made, which are as follows:

1. It is a fact that the expenses of carrying on business have been greatly decreased during the last eighteen months.

2. Production has been materially cheapened. Abundant food crops for two years have lowered the price of the necessaries of life, and wages have also fallen. The great multitude of unemployed workmen have had time to consider the effect of trade unions and other labor organizations upon their real prosperity, and as American workmen are, in the main, a sensible folk, we hear less of eight hour movements and strikes.

3. The vast economy which was the enforced result of the stagnation of the last two years begins to tell. Divide forty millions by five, and we get eight millions as about the number of families in the United States, all of whom have been compelled, during the last two years, to live on less than they expended for some years before.

4. The West owes less money than ever before. The farmers have obtained, on the whole, good prices for their crops; Western merchants owe but little in the East, and the process of liquidating old debts has been almost completed.

5. The South also is prosperous. The sugar crop has been large and very profitable. The cotton crop has brought fair prices and has been yearly increasing.

6. Prices of merchandise are now so low that merchants do not incur a great risk in carrying stocks of goods.

7. The action of Congress on the currency question is now seen to be unimportant in its results; it will not either inflate or contract, and for a year to come, except in the unlikely case of a foreign war, business men may begin new enterprises without the fear of sudden or great changes in value or prices.

8. As signs of the actual revival of business we may quote the fact that already a number of contracts for new buildings are completing in this city. The iron industry, which was the most deplorably prostrate of all, is slowly reviving. Most of the railroads now buy steel rails instead of iron, and we hear that the steel rail works in different parts of the country are all busy and have orders for two or three months ahead.

9. Finally, in any consideration of the future, the immense recuperative powers of the country must be taken into account. Our condition is that of a young and vigorous man with a sound constitution struck down by fever. He may lie long in peril of death; but when once the fever is mastered his recovery is rapid and sure.

—The increased tax of 25 per cent. on sugar and molasses authorized at the late session of Congress has already gone into operation. The additional duty is favored by the refiners and disliked by the importers, the latter contending that it is almost prohibitory to the importation of high grade or "grocery" sugars. The duty on molasses has been increased from 5 to 6 1-4 cents per gallon, melado from 1 1-2 to 1⅞ cents per pound, sugar, not above No. 7 Dutch standard, from 1 3-4 to 2 3-16 cents per pound, Nos. 7 to 10 from 2 to 2 1-2 cents, No. 16 to 20 from 3 1-4 to 4 1-16 cents, and above No 20 from 4 to 5 cents per pound. The two first represent the general averages of raw and the two latter the high grades. While No. 7 pays an additional duty of 5/16c., No. 20 pays 1c. increase, and it is this difference which the importers believe will be to their disadvantage.

—The railroad war in which the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroads have for some weeks been the prominent actors, has culminated, as we learn, in a general reduction of rates for freight from New York city by the three trunk lines, and a new tariff thence, with the following rates to Chicago: First-class freight, 75 cents per 100 pounds, instead of $1, as heretofore; second-class, 70 cents per 100 pounds; third-class, 60 cents per 100 pounds; fourth-class, 45 cents per 100 pounds; fifth-class, 35 cents per 100 pounds; coffee, sugar, molasses and syrup, 30 cents per 100 pounds. Rates to other points West are gauged by the above schedule.

—The New York Courts have decided that a national bank is subject to the State law of usury, but the Supreme Court of Massachusetts has recently taken the ground that the power to regulate the rate of interest concerns a vital element of credit banking, and that for the Government to yield this power to the States is virtually to yield to them the power to hamper and destroy the national bank system. The courts of Ohio have taken the same ground. In New York there is a strict usury law, in Ohio there is a very liberal one, and in Massachusetts there is none at all.

—There has been a hotly contested attempt in the Tennessee Legislature to repeal the law allowing ten per cent. interest to be taken by special agreement. It was defeated in the Senate by the casting vote of the President.

—The new usury law of Georgia allows 12 per cent. to be taken by special contract, the legal rate being otherwise 7 per cent. The penalty of taking an excess is the forfeiture of the interest.

—The Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad announces a dividend of 2½ per cent., payable on the 15th day of April next.

NEW YORK, March 20, 1875.

There are many theories concerning the change in various markets since yesterday noon. It may be that gold speculation has culminated for the present, or it may be that some members of the clique have not kept faith with the clique; but it is all surmise. The presence in the city of Secretary Bristow is construed by some as intending to overawe the clique, but the Secretary denies that his visit here has any reference to Wall street markets or to business of the Treasury.

Money was very easy, and call loans ranged from 4 to 2½ per cent. Foreign exchange closed up quiet and firm. The nominal asking rates are 481 and 485 for bankers' long and short sterling. Prime mercantile paper is quoted at 5@7 per cent. Gold opened at 116, fell off to 115⅝, rallied to 116, and closed at 115⅜. The rates paid for borrowing were 1-32, 1-64, 1 and 2 per cent. Loans afterwards were made flat and at 1 and 2 per cent for carrying. The clearings were $79,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed to-day $60,000, and received for customs $208,000. The imports for the week were: Dry goods, $2,586,418; merchandise, $5,374,193. The specie shipments in the same time were $826,991, of which $562,082 was Spanish gold to Havana, $57,000 American gold to Havana, and the remainder gold and silver bars.

There is a report going around of the failure of a banking house with large German connections, but nothing definite can be ascertained. It is more than likely if there was such a failure it could be located.

Government bonds closed strong. State bonds were quiet and nominal. Railroad mortgages were quiet and firm in late afternoon dealings. The stock market opened steady, and afterward became active and buoyant, with an advance all along the list of 1-4 to 1 1-4 per cent. Later there was a falling off of 1-4 to 1 1-4 per cent. on realizations, but during the afternoon the whole market was up again under the lead of Union Pacific, when the highest prices of the day were marked. There were some sales of Western Union, ex-dividend. The other features were Pacific Mail, Northwest, Wabash, and Rock Island. The market closed active and strong. The transactions aggregated 205,000 shares, of which 15,300 were Lake Shore, 20,300 Northwestern common, 40,000 Pacific Mail, 3,500 St, Paul, 7,600 Ohios, 20,600 Western Union, 5,600 Western Union ex dividend, 5,400 Wabash, and 77,000 Union Pacific.

The following is the bank statement:

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, March 20, 1875.

The general merchandise markets continue to drag; business, while it is somewhat better than it was last month, is not what it should be at this particular time. About the only noticeable feature we have to record are in Wheat and Flour, both of which have stiffened up very materially within the past few days, under the influence of the advices from Chicago and New York, and there has been a sharp advance in the hog product recently. In the grocery trade business continues dull, unusually so, and the leading articles are still shrinking in value. The general produce trade continues moderately active, but about the only new feature to notice is an advance on Eggs.

APPLES—Continue very dull, but unchanged; $2@3 ℔ bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ℔ gal.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—3c ℔ lb.

BEANS—Quotable at $1,90@2 ℔ bu. for mediums and $2@2,10 for navies.

BROOM CORN—There is a very fair demand, and the recent sharp advance is fully maintained. A Chicago report, under date of 19th, says:—Broom Corn was in fair demand and very firm. Sales have been made recently in the country at an advance, and local dealers report having made sales at 14c for hurl and 12½c for corn that will work itself. However, no general advance has yet been made, though some dealers are asking more than the prices following: Good to extra hurl, 12@13c; brush that will work itself into a choice hurl broom, 11@12c; fair to good do, 10@10½c; inferior brush, 9@9½c; crooked, 5½@7½c.

BUTTER—The market continues overstocked and dull, but prices remain about as last quoted. Prime to choice rolls, 25 to 27 cents; medium to good, 18@22; common to fair, 12@15.

CRANBERRIES—$10@12 ℔ bbl.

CHEESE—The general tone of the market is easy, but prices remain unchanged; prime Ohio Goshen, 16½ to 17 cents; New York do, 17 to 17½.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged. Apples, 7@8½; Peaches, 8½@9½; Blackberries, 9@10, as to quality.

EGGS—The market is fairly active, and with light receipts and a diminished supply, the recent advance is maintained; quotable at 24@25 for fresh. There is no sale for pickled.

FLOUR—The general tone and spirit of the market is much firmer, and the indications are that prices will have to be advanced here before long, as it is higher in the West, our chief source of supply. We quote: Spring wheat flours at $5,40@5,65 for Wisconsins, and 5,65@5,75 for Minnesotas; winters, $5,65@5,85 for red and $6@6,25 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $5,50@5,75.

GROCERIES—The grocery tradecontinues quiet; country orders are coming in pretty freely, but they are mostly small, while city retailers, as a rule, are buying little or nothing—they report business as being very dull and unsatisfactory. Coffee continues very dull, and with the stock steadily increasing and a strong disposition to realize, prices are weak and drooping. The total stock in Baltimore on the 18th, in warehouses and afloat, were reported 148,000 bags, though about 38,000 bags was sold by importers. A Rio dispatch under date of 17th says: Purchases Coffee for United States, for the week, 31,000 bags; cleared for ditto, 38,000 bags; loading for do., 85,000 bags; stock, 150,000 bags; average daily receipts, 8,600 bags. Sugars continue dull and prices are drooping.

GRAIN—The market for Wheat is considerably firmer in tone, in sympathy with the recent advance in the west, but as yet there has been no actual improvement in this market, so far at least as prices are concerned. We continue to quote prime Penna and Ohio red at, $1,14 to $1,16; ditto amber and white, $1,18@1,20. The Oat market continues quiet, but the general tone is, if anything, firmer; mixed, 63½ to 64; white, 65 to 65½c, free. Corn continues quiet, but the stock here is not large and prices are low as compared with the cost at the source of supply: Ear, 75@77, Shelled, 71@73 for white and mixed, and 74@75 for yellow free. Rye, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at $1,10@1,12. No. 2 Spring Barley, $1,20@1,28; Fall, $1,35@1,40.

HOMINY—$4,25@4,50 ℔ bbl.

HAY—The receipts of baled continue to keep up well, and the market is dull but prices are still maintained; prairie, $17@19; timothy, $20@23.

ONIONS—$3@4 ℔ bbl.

PEAS—$1,90@2 ℔ bush

POTATOES—The receipts are falling off somewhat, and while prices remain unchanged, the market is firmer; $1@1,05 ℔ bush on track, and $1,10@1,15 out of store.

PROVISIONS—The market for the hog product continues fairly active and firm, and the indications generally at this writing point to a still further rise in prices.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is firmer, and we now quote at $6,85 to $7 to the trade and $7,25 to the country. Timothy Seed coming in freely and prices are weak; quotable at $2,50 to $3.

RAGS—Quiet and unchanged; regular sales at 2½@3 cts for good mixed, woolen ¾c ℔ lb.

SWEET CORN—5@6c ℔ lb.

TALLOW—Easier under advices from New York showing lower prices there; prime city rendered, 8½c; country, 7½@8c.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET

PITTSBURGH CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

FREIGHTS.

So far as we can learn there has been no change made in the rates on live stock from this point eastward, but it is likely that there will be within the next week or two, as changes appear to be the order of the day, and they are mostly downward. We continue to quote at 25c ℔ cwt to Philadelphia and Baltimore, and 30c to New York.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of live stock at these yards for the week, and, in order to afford the reader a comparison, we append those of last week also:

	This Week.	Last Week.
Cattle	353 cars.	341 cars.
Hogs	108 "	190 "
Sheep	101 "	103 "

CATTLE.

Trade opened up very slow in the early part of the week, and it continued so up until Wednesday afternoon; buyers, especially those from Philadelphia, had an idea that they could force a decline, but in this they reckoned without their host. We think the Philadelphia men were deceived in regard to the supply, which did not turn out as large as they expected; it is true, the aggregate receipts were slightly in excess of those of last week, but it should be borne in mind that there was a larger proportion of through consignments. The receipts from Thursday ... on up until to-day were 99 cars, and of these 96 cars were through consignments, showing but three cars of market cattle during the time in question; indeed, there is reason to believe that the actual supply on the market was considerably less. The sales for the week were 1,914 head, against 2,040 last week; included in the purchases, since the date of our last report (18th inst.) were 13 cars to go to Philadelphia, making, if we remember correctly, 95 cars for the week; 1 car to New York, making 17 cars for the week, and 2 cars to Baltimore, making 5 cars for the week. There would have been more cattle bought for Baltimore and New York if there had been more of the right kind here, and that, too, at very full prices, which demonstrates very clearly what we have already intimated, that the market wound up better than it opened. The average quality was unusually common, as there was not, that we could hear of, a single drove on sale all week that would grade prime or extra, and a limited number of this character might have brought even better prices than was obtained for this kind last week. Extra 1,500 lb steers quotable at 7⅛@7¼; prime 1,300@1,400, 6⅜@7; good 1,100@1,200, 6@6⅜; good 900@1,000, 5@5½; Bulls, as per quality, 4@5½.

HOGS.

The market for this class of stock has been steadily advancing all week, and notwithstanding prices are higher now than they have been for several weeks, the indications at this writing are that rates will go still higher. It is true, as might be expected, that the extreme prices now current will curtail the demand, but as long as the supply continues small, as it is now, scarcely equal to the demand, as there were but two or three cars in the pens at noon to-day unsold, and then the Western markets, including Chicago, are fully as high relatively as our own. Then, again, the product has stiffened up very materially within the past few days, under the influence of an increased demand, and this, too, has not been without its effect in stiffening hogs. Philadelphia hogs sold to-day at 9 to 9⅜c for fair to good, and it was expected that they would bring 9,40, perhaps 9,50 to-day. Monday Yorkers quotable at 7.85@8, and good mixed at 8.40@8.50. These are big prices, and we cannot see how the butcher, and the butcher trade, buy most of the hogs that are shipped from here to the Eastern markets, will be able to get his money back again, unless he puts up the price of pork.

SHEEP.

The run was again large, 101 cars, against 103 cars last week; it was feared in the early part of the week that the market would take the back track, but with an active demand, sellers had no difficulty in effecting sales, and from and including Tuesday until the close all the better grades brought an advance of from an ⅛ to ¼c. We may be mistaken, but we incline to the belief that there are more sheep bought and sold here than in any other market in the country, outside of New York. Extra heavy 120@140 lbs, 7¾@7⅞c; 100 lbs, 7c; 90@95 lbs, 6⅜@6¾c; good 75@85 lbs, 6@6½c. There was one bunch of extra, for which 7⅞ was refused; it was held at 8c. Indiana sheep, as to quality and condition, 6@7c.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The most important feature to record is the sharp depreciation in the raw article within the past few days, and the somewhat demoralized condition of the market; a feeling of weakness has been apparent for some weeks past, hence the decline, to which reference has been made, was not altogether unexpected. The impression appears to prevail to some extent that the reports in regard to the falling off in the production, as well as the curtailing of development, have been exaggerated somewhat, and the consequence is that consumers (the refiners) have not bought as largely as they would otherwise have done, and this, we have no doubt, has had something to do with the reaction. There has been but very little refined sold here during the past couple of weeks, although it is said there is a slight margin for profit at current rates; however, those refiners who are in operation sold in February about all they could turn out in March, and they are not just now inclined to make any new contracts until they have filled their old ones. A New York paper says:—A decline in freights to Europe and the rise in gold, have enabled shippers to execute some orders upon about as favorable terms as before the late rise in prices, and it is quite evident that nothing short of a material and well authenticated decrease in the production will induce them to respond to any decided advance in the article. The exports of petroleum from the United States from January 1st, as compared with former years are as follows:

	1875.	1874.
From other ports	6,768,631	12,009,180
Total	25,695,045	35,795,045 Gallons.
Same time 1873		23,851,675
Same time 1872		20,102,815

CHANGE IN FREIGHTS.

We stated in our last report that a change in oil freights was about to be or had been made, and we are now able to give the new tariff, which is as follows:

On refined to New York, $1,62 ℔ bbl.
On refined to Baltimore, $1.47 ℔ bbl.
On refined to Philadelphia, $1.47 ℔ bbl.
On crude to New York, $1,47 ℔ bbl.
On crude to Baltimore, $1,32 ℔ bbl.
On crude to Philadelphia, $1,32 ℔ bbl.

Of this new rate on crude the 22c will be refunded the same as under the late tariff, and whatever it may cost the refiners at Pittsburgh, or any point in the Oil Region, to transport their crude by rail to their respective refineries will be refunded from the above mentioned rates, on the basis of one barrel of refined equaling one and one-third barrel of crude.

CRUDE.

The Crude market was reported very quiet to-day, and prices, although much lower, as compared with the early part of the week, were about the same as on Friday; United certificates, at wells, $1.52½; immediate shipment, $1,75@1,77½. Dispatches from all points in the producing regions to-day reported trade very dull.

REFINED.

The market for Refined also continues quiet and dull, and prices, in comparison with the early part of the week, are lower. [illegible] Baltimore, 17⅜@12⅜c [illegible]; New York, 14⅜.

[illegible]

Receipts Crude since Jan. 1, 1875		[illegible] bbls.
Receipts Crude same time, 1874		274,188 "
Shipments Refined per Penna. railroad since Jan. 1, 1875		19,120 "
Shipments same time, 1874		84,871 "

OIL BARRELS.

The market is firmer, but the demand is only fair, and prices remain unchanged; countries quotable at $1,20; city make, $1,30 bid and $1.35 asked.

Wool.

BOSTON, March 20.—The condition of the wool trade remains unchanged. A fair amount of business is doing, and quite a large number of buyers are in the market, attracted by the comparatively low price of fine fleeces, on which further slight concessions have been made in a few instances to effect sales, but otherwise prices are unchanged. The sales of the week include Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, X, XX and No 1, at 52@58c; Michigan fleece 50@51c; western and other fleeces 47@51c; washed combing 59@60c; Oregon delaine 47c; unwashed combing 45c; scoured 50@97½c; super and X pulled 45@57c.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Business was checked by a snow storm, and transactions were light with agents, importers and jobbers. Cotton goods are in steady demand, and heavy standard and low grade fine browns closely sold up. White Rock bleached shirtings advanced ½c. Washington cambrics are now 7c. Peabody plain and figured sideband prints are now 8½c, and solids 8c. Ginghams are in good demand. Woolen goods are quiet.

J. KABERNAGLE, Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was ten feet two inches. Weather continues cloudy and cold, with an occasional snow squall. The ice coming out of the Allegheny yesterday was lighter apparently than at any time since it broke up, and it is not likely that navigation will be impeded again by this cause. Business continues very slow at the landing.

THE Charles W. Mead arrived at Cincinnati on Friday, and departed the same day for St. Louis.

COM. COULSON and H. K. Peck left St. Louis for Sioux City on Friday night.

CAPT. JNO. W. TOBIN, of New Orleans, has purchased the large steamer Katie.

THE Exchange for Cincinnati, and the Carroll for the Upper Missouri, departed on Saturday evening.

DR. BURLEIGH goes to Cincinnati on the Carroll, from which point he will proceed to Yankton by rail.

COMMODORE KOUNTZ left for Chicago on Friday, and from there he will probably proceed to St. Louis.

THE Fearless barges are filling up steadily for St. Louis, and will soon be ready to take their departure.

THE R. W. Skillinger arrived from Cincinnati with a fair cargo, and she will soon be ready for a return trip.

THE tow-boat Warner and the barges Milton, Lewis, Hattie, Minnie and J. H. Williams are advertised for sale.

THE Mollie Ebert, Capt. F. Y. Batchelor, is now in turn for Cincinnati, and is announced to take her departure on Wednesday.

THE Diamond, John Perry, Jas. A. Blackmore, N. J. Bigley and Saml. Miller arrived at Cincinnati on Friday, with tows of coal.

WE understand that Capt. Asa S. Shepherd is ill at his home in Georgetown, from softening of the brain. Capt. S. was clerk of the Paragon.

THE new steamer Benton will be completed within the new few days, and it is thought she will be ready to commence business early next week.

WE learn that Mr. F. Maddy, of the Salt Valley, is quite sick at the house of Captain Harry Bayse, in Gallipolis. His disease resembles typhoid pneumonia.

CAPT. JOHN N. BOFINGER, of St. Louis, has the contract for removing the armament of the dismantled gunboats from New Orleans to the Pensacola (Florida) Navy Yard.

THE Samson No 2, the first of the coal fleet, arrived at Louisville on Thursday, from Pittsburgh with a tow of coal for Sam. Roberts, and returned with a tow of empty barges.

A DISPATCH was received from Chicago on Saturday, stating that the bond of Com. Coulson & Co., to whom the Upper Missouri contract has been awarded, was accepted by the government, so that the matter is closed.

THE St. Louis Democrat of Friday says:—Capt. S. B. Coulson, successful applicant for the mountain transportation contract, is in the city, on his way to the Upper Missouri. He has experience in the business, and has a good supply of tonnage.

PARTIES in Ironton are negotiating to build a passenger packet to run between Ironton and Ashland, distance four miles. She will be ninety feet long and twelve feet wide; propeller machinery; two cabins, fore and aft and handsomely fitted up expressly for the trade.

PILOT GEO. CLARK takes the wheel of the Iron Mountain, now loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh, and Mike Kelley has gone to Evansville to meet the Ed. Hobbs, and will pilot her to St. Louis. Clark and Kelley were at the wheel of the R. A. Babbage when she sank, and barely escaped with their lives.

THE Louisville Courier is responsible for the following: When the Thompson Dean was coming up to the Evansville wharf this trip, Captain Paul steod near the bell with his high hat on. Old Silverthorn thought she had three chimneys until Captain Paul lifted his beaver and bowed to the immortal Silver.

A MEMPHIS paper says:—The Exporter, when she passed this port going south, a few days since, put off a lot of whisky under protest, and the underwriters don't like it very well. It is said the boat lost a "barl of bug-poison" overboard in a storm somewhere above this port, and this mishap was the cause of the protest.

A SURVEY is going on to find the difference of elevation between the bed of Red River above the raft and Trinity river of Texas, near Gainesville, not far from the source. The object is to report upon the feasibility of turning the waters of the Red into the Trinity, with a view of improving the navigation of the latter, and reclaiming the valleys of the former from annual inundations by floods.

IT is still the impression that no less than five to seven persons perished on the W. J. Lewis, mostly deckers, and the deck-book being lost there is no way left to entirely clear up this belief. One of the wheels of the Lewis, the one next to shore, escaped the flames almost entirely, but all else is a total wreck. The hull has sunk out of sight, except the iron shafting of the boat, which stands out in view. The bodies of the lost have not yet been recovered, their having all gone to the bottom, or have become mixed up with the debris of the wreck.

THE Portsmouth Tribune says:—The colored cabin crew of the Potomac, under the leadership of the ... steward, Mr. Sandusky, held a prayer meeting in the cabin ... evening. The crew generally took an active part ... the revival meetings at Allen Chapel during the ... and are now demonstrating very forcibly that Christianity is not incompatible with every day business of life. It is the reason passengers that there is an air of quiet and order at the same time cheerfulness about the Potomac's cabins which is not usually found on a steamboat. All but two have experienced conversion.

A VICKSBURG paper, of the 14th, says—The Frank Brock, Jr., struck a snag at the Narrows, below Watt's wood-yard, and was sunk in Bayou, and sunk to her boiler deck. No lives lost. The Brock was a total loss, as there was no insurance. She had 120 bales of cotton for merchants here. We understand that the pilot was aware that there was a stump at the point she struck, but the current was running so strong it was impossible to stop her before she struck. The Brock was a new boat, and named after the high fashion head clerk of the P'. The Lacy Kerin. She was a new boat, and owned principally by Capt. Metzler, of this city, and on whom the loss falls heavily.

FEARFUL TORNADO.

Great Destruction of Property and Loss of Life.

Several Georgia Towns Completely Ruined.

AUGUSTA, GA., March 20.—A fearfully destructive tornado passed over here this afternoon. The rainfall, accompanied by hail, was unprecedentedly heavy. Several towns in the interior suffered severely in loss of life and property. At Camak, on the Georgia Railroad, several houses were blown down. Thomas Gesling was killed and several persons wounded. Near Thomson, forty miles from Augusta, a large amount of property was destroyed and several persons killed. At Appling, Columbia county, the destruction of property is reported to be great. Several persons are reported killed and many wounded. At Aiken, S. C., the Catholic church was completely demolished. All lines but the one north are down. Reports from the country are confused and unsatisfactory, but there seems to be no doubt that the storm was fearfully destructive, surpassing in extent and violence anything of the kind in this section for years.

List of Casualties.

AUGUSTA, March 21.—During the storm near Thomson, John L. Stevall and wife and two daughters of John N. Morgan, were badly wounded by falling houses. Several negroes were killed and wounded.

At Appling, the houses of S. Hutchinson, Solen Reese, John Boston and others were destroyed. Mrs. Martha Darcy and Miss Maggie Bailey were killed. Miss Malone and Mrs. Grey were seriously wounded. One end of the Court House was blown in.

At Camack every house except one is destroyed. Mr. Fielding, the telegraph operator, was badly bruised. Tom Gesling was on a siding when the tornado struck a train, demolishing it completely and killing him instantly. Mrs. Wright had two ribs broken, and Mrs. Jones had her back broken. A son of Rev. Pitcher was killed.

All trains coming into Augusta except the Central were delayed, but there is no serious damage to railroads. There was no loss of life or damage to property in Augusta. James Gordon, white, and Charles Ramsey, colored, were drowned by the capsizing of a boat in the Savannah river.

Later.

The tornado caused fearful destruction along its track, laying waste houses, trees and fences, and killing persons and stock. The Baptists were holding a meeting at Elam church, near Camack, when the storm demolished it, killing three and wounding twenty-five persons. Residences and outhouses were demolished on many plantations in Warren, McDuff and Columbia counties in Georgia, the destruction extending to Edgefield, Aiken and Barnwell counties, in South Carolina. In some places persons were blown a distance of sixty yards. Every house on Mrs. P. E. Watson's plantation, including five residences, are destroyed. In Columbia county three negroes were killed and twenty-five persons wounded. Ten houses on Dr. Hamilton's place were destroyed. It is impossible to give a correct idea of the amount of property lost. Several hundred thousand dollars will not cover it. Fearful suffering is already reported in the devastated territory. This was the severest storm ever known in this section.

LOUISIANA.

The Wheeler Award.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—The Wheeler award has been received by Governor Kellogg, but has not been officially published. It is understood, however, that the committee have decided that about eleven Conservative members not returned elected by the Returning Board are entitled to seats, and that about six Conservatives whose election was claimed by the Conservative committee are not entitled to seats. The arbitrators decide that Elam, claiming to have been elected to the Senate on the Conservative ticket from the district which includes the towns of Coushatta and Colfax, is not entitled to a seat, and that in Grant parish there was no election for member of the House. One Conservative contested is awarded a seat in the Senate. The award, it is understood, leaves the House Democratic and the Senate Republican, with a small Republican majority on joint ballot. All seven of the arbitrators signed the award. Mr. Wheeler is expected to come to New Orleans to aid in carrying out the adjustment. It is intimated on good authority that Gov. Kellogg will call an extra session of the Legislature to meet about the 12th or 15th of April. The friends of adjustment claim that there will be no difficulty in carrying it into effect, public sentiment being strongly in favor of a settlement of the political difficulties.

POTTSVILLE.

Indignation Meetings of Employes of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company.

POTTSVILLE, PA., March 21.—Large and well attended meetings of the Mechanics and Workingmen's Benevolent Association have been held in this region to-day by employes of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, comprising engineers, firemen, conductors and roadhands. Two thousand men who have been asked to resign their membership in the Association have resolved to stand to the Union to a man and relinquish the employment of the company. To-day is the last they will remain in their employment. A large number of men have been suspended in consequence. Advices received from Mahoney Plane, St. Clair, Schuylkill, Haven and other points indicate a bitter feeling against the company. Many new members were installed at meetings.

Murder Cases.

Michael Flanegen, on trial here for the murder of James McGarlick, near Mahoney City, last December, was yesterday found guilty in the second degree.

Joseph Brown, to be hung here on Wednesday next for the murder of the Kramer family, will probably make a full confession.

CINCINNATI.

How a Salesman Robbed His Employers.

CINCINNATI, March 20. — For several weeks past the hardware firm of R. W. Booth & Co. have been missing quantities of fine cutlery, revolvers and silver-plated ware from their stock. Suspicions were directed to Andrew Castlen, one of their salesmen, and he was shadowed by detectives, who discovered nothing. A watch was placed in the store, which resulted in discovering Castlen enter the store during the night and carry away goods. He was afterwards visited at his boarding place and charged with the crime. He made a full confession, stating that it was his plan to remove the goods at night in small quantities, he having a key to the store, and at the end of each week he carried them to his home at New Richmond, Ohio, whither he went to-day, accompanied by officers, and delivered to them a case containing seven or eight hundred dollars worth of the stolen goods. He is now under arrest.

STRAITSVILLE, O.

The Miners' War.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20. — Adjutant General Amos returned from Straitsville to-night, and reports all quiet. Information comes here from a reliable source that this quiet will remain unless the owners of the Troy mines seek to place the colored miners again at work. If this attempt is made, it is nearly certain that the troubles of the present week will be repeated. The white miners are said to declare that they are determined to drive the colored miners from that field and keep them out.

Coal Miners' Troubles.

MAUCH CHUNK, PA., March 20.—A dozen policemen arrived from Philadelphia last evening, for duty at Summit Hill, Ashton, and other places, to protect the men and property of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company. HOME NEWS.

A Stranger Identified.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago an unknown man was killed on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad near Glendale. A number of papers were found on his person, which led Coroner McCallin to believe that his name was Hartman and that he was from Gilman, Ills. The Coroner accordingly wrote the postmaster at that place and received the following reply:

GILMAN, ILL., March 16, 1875.
William McCallin, Pittsburgh:

Your letter of January 28, 1875, stating that a man had been killed on P., Ft. W. & C. R. R., is received. According to your statement the man killed was my father His name was Harry Hartman.

Please state under what circumstances he was killed.

Yours truly,
JOHN HARTMAN,
Gilman, Iroquois county, Illinois.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Company K, of the Fourteenth Regiment, N. G. P., indulged in a very pleasant entertainment at Mansfield, on Friday evening, at their armory. They have just fitted their armory up, and in taking possession of it, made the occasion one of a fraternal reunion of friends. Quite a number of military men and members of the Heath Zouaves went out from the city to participate in the affair. The entertainment at the armory consisted of recitations by Prof. Downey, of the State Agricultural College, the acting of the tragedy of "Rhoderick Dhu," by Prof. Downey and Lieut. J. Glenn. This was followed by the manual of arms, bayonet drill and combat, gone through with to music from the band, and wound up with a broadsword combat between Prof. Downey and Lieut. Glenn.

Capt. W. J. Glenn then made an address, welcoming visitors to the armory at any time. After the entertainment at the armory the officers accepted an invitation to supper, and terpsichorean exercises at the house of Mr. Sidney Rowland where fair ladies had gathered, and where the time was delightfully whiled away, until the two o'clock train came along and brought the visitors back to the city. Among those present from the city were Col. Hill, Capts. Heckert and Batchelor, Lieuts. Moore and Smith, Major Snoble and Surgeon Simpson, and others. The entertainment was a very pleasant one, and the visitors were highly gratified at the treatment accorded them.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

An Answer From the Pennsylvania Railroad—The Request of the Chamber of Commerce Compiled With.

It seems that the authorities of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and Pittsburgh shippers are coming to amicable conclusions. Some weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce sent a letter to President Thomas A. Scott on the subject, but no answer was received until Saturday last, after all hope had been given up. In this communication, it is said, Colonel Scott makes concessions covering nearly all the demands of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee who had the matter in charge, Messrs. John Hood and L. C. Newsom, will present this letter this morning, at eleven o'clock, and also give an account of the negotiations with the railroad company.

MEYERS' DOOM.

He is Found Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

The trial of Murray and Meyers for the murder of farmer Wahl is over, and both men have been found guilty of murder in the first degree. The men were tried separately, but the evidence was so strong against them that it led to their conviction. The trial of Meyers was begun on Friday morning, and did not close until five minutes past three on Saturday, at which time the jury retired, and in fifteen minutes thereafter returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The prisoner was ably defended by talented counsel. Nothwithstanding their strong appeals for mercy to a "stranger in a strange land," the facts in the evidence could not be ignored which, though a portion of them were circumstantial, were overwhelming, and proved beyond a doubt the guilt of the accused. When the result was announced in the Court room on Saturday, Meyers was present and stood up bravely to hear the verdict. After it was read he was led away to his cell and the crowd soon deserted the room.

PREPARING FOR SUMMER.

The Pittsburgh Ice Crop.

At the meeting on Saturday morning, in old City Hall, of the committee appointed by the Ice Dealer's Protective Association to arrange a price list for the ensuing year, Mr. Whitmore reported that he had gone to considerable trouble to collect statistics of the quantity of ice housed in the city and neighborhood, and made out the total at 68,000 tons. This is about 50,000 tons more than was harvested last year, when the crop was nearly a total failure, and 20,000 tons less than in 1873, when ice was delivered at comparatively low rates. In addition to the stock in this vicinity, the Chautauqua Company has 18,000 tons housed at the lake. After debating the matter for a while it was decided to submit to the Association at its meeting on Wednesday a scale averaging about forty per cent. below the list of 1873. Small lots for dwellings will be thirty per cent. lower and large dealers will get a discount of fifty per cent. The price will thus be brought down to about twenty cents a hundred. If four dollars a ton be the figure adopted, the Chautauqua Company will be left out in the cold, as the freight from the lake is $3.50, and the handling will bring the actual cost up to not less than $4.50.

PUBLIC CHARITIES.

The Fifth Annual Report of the Commissioners — Statistics Concerning Pennsylvania's Penal and Reformatory Institutions—Some Interesting Figures for Thoughtful Citizens—Suggestions Concerning Public Morals—Who People our Almshouses and Jails—The Reformatory Agencies at Work.

The Fifth annual report of the Board of Commissioners of Public Charities has been laid upon our table. It is a voluminous document, which evidently has been prepared with great care, and which contains a mass of statistics and other information that furnishes profitable reading for all who have at heart the success of these humanitarian movements which tend to reform the convict, elevate the degraded, and give succor to the unfortunates who are deserving of help. From the report we glean a few facts.

DESIGN OF THE COMMISSION.

The Commissioners say that in the pursuance of their investigations they have generally met the kindliest treatment, and they believe their suggestions have tended to improve matters connected with our State penal and reformatory institutions in all directions. They rightly say in support of their work, that, "wherever manhood exists, and however low it has become reduced, either by misfortune or crime, it bears the likeness, in some sort, of the best and the happiest, and is well worthy of the wisest and most humane counseling, as to how its depression may be elevated from depths of misery, ignorance and degradation, into which we shrink from looking, to a position where we may discern some traits of our common humanity, at which we may be willing to glance, and, at length, to consider and help, for our own common good, as well as for individual relief or reformation."

He next discusses the matter of

and presents statistics showing that during the year ending September 30, 1874, there had been relief given to to 99,048 in almhouses and outdoor relief—embracing over 200,000 meals and 94,865 lodgings. The largest number relieved during one quarter was in that ending March 31, and of the aggregate relieved the proportion of men to women was as 99 to 9—certainly a rather bad showing for the "stronger sex." It was estimated that about 35,000 "tramps," had received assistance, and the Board says: "So burdensome had become this evil, that one of the officers of a county almshouse, which exists on a line or road much traveled by this thriftless class, writes as follows: "This vagrant question deserves the earnest attention of the Board of Public Charities, and some speedy plan should be devised by which the country could be rid of this idle worthless class of men. Action! Action! Action!"

The Board is quite severe on these "tramps," and while it makes all due allowance for the genuine pauper, and asks for him the tenderest sympathy, says of the "tramps": "But we owe no debt to fraud or idleness; neither policy, humanity nor Christianity prompt us to harbor or succour them. In each of the poor-houses will be found a proportion of the debauched and idle who utterly refuse to work, and who prey upon the community either by beggary or crime. The admittance of this idle and vicious element is not only a flagrant wrong to the taxpayers who support these institutions, but the worthy poor for whom they are maintained. The Board earnestly urge upon the superintendents of these establishments, stricter watchfulness in the reception and retention of these, the lowest class of swindlers. Still more costly and dangerous in effect upon society are the hordes of vagrants of both sexes who roam through the State gaining subsistence first at one poor-house, and then another, and who are encouraged thus to persist in their wandering predatory life. The doors of all almshouses should be barred against these sturdy beggars, and private charity limited to an offer of work and wages. That community only can acquire a sound and healthy growth in which the rule is absolute, 'He that will not work, neither shall he eat.' A strict oversight of this class is, however, almost impossible in the sparsely settled districts, but is quite practicable in the large cities, such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, &c., where the evil reaches its worst development and beggary becomes a profession, and in some cases, we might add, a fine art."

As a remedy for the evils of indiscriminate charity, which does but little good, the Board recommends the Boston plan, where all benevolent effort is centered in one general headquarters for distribution, with the city blocked out and agents in every district to investigate the cases. This plan has proven successful in Boston.

PAUPERS PROVIDED WITH HOMES.

Of the paupers provided with homes—the worthy poor—the Board says there have been during the year 7,782—an increase over 1873 of 21.51 per cent. Of these the adults are to the children as 88 to 12, or of the sexes separately, the males were in proportion to the females as 60 to 40. In regard to classification, 6,332, or 81.37 per cent. were sane; 1,226, or 15.76 insane; 43, or 9.55 per cent. idiotic; 134, or 1.68 per cent. blind; and 5, or 9.64 per cent. deaf and dumb. The number of persons receiving out-door relief in districts connected with almshouses during the quarter ending September 30, 1874, was 11,100 or 3,455 more than at the same date of last year. Of this number 6,466 were adults, viz: 1,384 males, 4,404 females; and 5,312 were children under 16 years of age, of which 2,534 are males and 2,778 females.

next engages the attention of the Board, and it urges more attention to this matter as vitally important to the "moneyed interest the civilization, the vitality and the religion of the State." It is argued by the Board that the old system of locking a man up for crime is not all that is needed. He must come within the sphere of reformative agencies. The manhood in him must be aroused, and the good citizen must assist in this work, if he would lift the burden of responsibility from his own shoulders. The progress of the Prison Reform within the past few years is then sketched, and the results cited as proof, if any is needed, of the wisdom and expediency of appealing to the more hopeful and higher elements of manhood in our dealings with even the most degraded of human beings. Make treaty with the ill-doer as with a fellow-creature, and it is more than probable that he will stand to his agreement; but treat him as a brute and he will promptly fulfil your expectations by acting as a brute."

As agencies toward reforming the criminal, the Board suggests productive labor for the convict; that he be taught a trade, and his mental and moral education also be looked to after some definite system. The receipts of this labor should first go to paying the convict's expenses for maintenance, and the residue be given to his family or to be used as a reserve for his own use when discharged. It is recommended also that women be engaged as supervisors of the female wards, and the greatest care should be exercised in the appointment of officers of the institution—culture and moral attainments, not political power being the elements sought after. In this connection the Board pays a high compliment to the Prison Reform Association which is doing such a good work under the direction of Dr. E. C. Wines.

In speaking of the

the Board gives statistics showing that "the number of convicts in the penitentiaries, work house and county jails on September 30, 1874, was 3,083, or one to 1,835 of the population; sixty-seven were in county prisons under sentence of court for payment of fine and costs, &c. These can hardly be considered as convicts, and are not, therefore, included with them; 1,190 were in prison summarily convicted under sentence of magistrate or justices of peace, for disorderly conduct, breaches of peace, &c. The number awaiting trial on September 30, 1874, was 449.

Of those who were committed during the year the largest number were guilty of larceny, there being 172 convicts from that crime. Burglary, 36, comes next; robbery, 25, comes next, and so throughout the list. The laboring class furnished 174 convicts; farmers, 13; miners, 15; teamsters, 13; clerks 14, and the other trades and professions lower down. But few of the convicts had received any industrial training, or possessed a handicraft knowledge; 380, or 84.08 per cent., has never been apprenticed to any trade or occupation; 12, or 2.65 per cent., had been apprenticed, but absconded before they were 21 years of age; only 49, or 10.84 per cent., served out their apprenticeship; 11, or 2.43 per cent., had not been apprenticed, but served 4 years or more to acquire a knowledge of some trade or occupation.

NEGLECTED CHIDREN.

As a means of checking crime in its incipiency, the Board urges special attention to the institutions established for the reformation of neglected, destitute and vicious children,—in which Pennsylvania has not yet taken a front rank. The Board contends that education will decrease crime as the largest proportion of criminals are illiterate, so then the minds, the hearts and the bodies of neglected children must be attended to. The public schools will not do this, as the degraded children, with tattered and torn garments, will not attend these schools, hence to be reached they must have reformatory schools established. Says the Board: "It sounds well in theory to point to our school-houses as a gift of the State to the poor, but the actual fact is that the hungry little beggar at their door has no more chance of admission than Lazarus into the gates of Dives." The State then, as a matter of financial economy, will come in time to see the importance of supporting these reformatory schools and thus largely preventing crime. The results of these schools elsewhere have abundantly proven their practicability. The plan proposed by the Board is "That industrial schools shall be introduced and assisted by the State. The support of a child in one of these, as we stated in our last report, will cost the State $20 per annum. The support of the same child matured into a criminal will cost her $200 per annum. "Our system of industrial schools," says a Swede, "is costly, but not dear. We cannot afford to let a child grow up in ignorance and vice." Still less can we afford it when the ignorant and vicious adult will shortly help to make the laws which are to govern us."

Of Reformatories there are two in Pennsylvania, viz.: The Philadelphia House of Refuge and the Pennsylvania Reform School in Allegheny county. The number in both institutions on September 30, 1874, was 898, the whites being in proportion to the colored as 81 to 19. It will be observed that but few colored delinquents are confined in the "Reform School," their proportion to the white being but 12 to 88. In the "House of Refuge," which has a special department for the colored inmates, we find that their ratio to the white is as 23 to 77. The average age of those committed during the year was 13.9 years, or white delinquent 14.5 years; colored 13.4 years.

INSANE POOR.

The Board next called attention to the Insane Poor. The number of indigent insane in the State hospital, established primarily for the maintenance, care and treatment of this class, was 764 on September 30, 1874, as reported by the authorities of these institutions; while the number of the same class in the poor houses of the State, and under other county provision, amounted to 1,352 at the same date, exclusive of the insane department of the Philadelphia Amshouse, which contained 1,075.

The Board is averse to maintaining any of these in the almhouses, as they cannot there receive the required care, and there is hardly ever one cured. Statistics, however, show that under proper treatment 75 per cent. are curable. The Board then shows by statistics that it would be cheaper for the State to support separate institutions for the insane, as they could be cured, and the expense of their keeping thus done away with.

Considerable space is devoted to the report to this subject, and the most urgent appeals are made for a more humanitarian system than at present prevails. The subject seems interesting from the statement that one in every 4,000 persons in the State annually become insane.

The statistics concerning the insane, show that 238 were made insane through moral causes; 475 through physical causes, and 383 unknown. Ill health made the largest number of victims—132; domestic trouble gave 60 victims; intemperance, 85; grief, 29; religious excitement, 26; trouble, 33, and other causes ranging downward. Laborers furnished 149 victims—the largest number; farmers came next with 92; clerks next with 49. Of the women, domestics furnished 128—the largest number; wives of laborers came next, numbering 62; wives of farmers next, 38; daughters of farmers next, 33. The editorial fraternity has 3 in the ranks, but no reporter, or relative of a reporter, his heirs, assigns, executors or administrators is numbered in the list.

Reports are also given from the Western Penitentiary, Dixmont, and the Reform School, but the main facts and statistics in these have already been given in our columns, and need no repetition here.

The rest of the report is taken up with a mass of statistics, from which some interesting facts could be gathered, but space is exhausted, and we may refer to the subject again.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Kate Fisher, the equestrian actress, and her trained horse Wonder, appear to night in the famous play of "Mazeppa," and it is altogether probable that the week's engagement will be a successful one, because the play is of a totally different character from any that have been produced heretofore this season, and being of the spectacular order, it is likely to draw well. The great feature of the evening will be the ride of Miss Fisher, strapped to her horse's back, from the stage to the highest part of the theatre. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Germania Orchestra.

The Germania Orchestra will give the eighth of its popular concerts at Library Hall next Thursday afternoon. This day has been selected because the following one, on which all previous entertainments have been given, is Good Friday. The programme is fully as good as former ones, the selections being choice, and it also includes a clarionet solo by Mr. A. Voith and a duet for horn and flute by Messrs. Stowagser and Kochier.

Trimble's Varieties.

Some of the performers last week were so successful in ingratiating themselves in public favor that the management deemed it best to re-engage them, which was accordingly done, and this week all the old favorites will reappear in new pieces. Cassini and Fritz, Lang, Daily, Queen, Sadie Connelly and other good ones have been retained.

The O. B. Doud Association.

The O. B. Doud Dramatic Association are requested to meet this evening, at their regular place of meeting, at half past seven o'clock, to complete the cast and arrangements for a performance to be given under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Association for the Relief of the Poor.

Musical and Dramatic Notes.

BARRY SULLIVAN has been sweetened with a heavy sugar-coating. For he is coming to the States. Miss Rose Coghlan has been supporting him.

IT was said of a distinguished actress that when she played Juliet, people in the parquet were obliged to put up umbrellas, to secure themselves from the tears of the gallery.

A REPORT is going the rounds to the effect that Charlie Backus, the minstrel, in going to marry Miss Lillie Eldridge. It must be unfounded, because Charlie is already married, and has been for some time.

ACCORDING to the St. Louis Republican, Eli Perkins was placed in a horrible dilemma. A highwayman gave him the alternative of handing out his brains or his money. And though he hadn't a cent about him, Eli could not give satisfaction.

A BOSTON dramatic critic says of a gifted actress: "She wore a handsome dress, and thereby hung a trail. Her subtle grace, flexible as the sinuosities of a morning's mist, and yet thoroughly proportioned to the curves of the character, are most specially noticeable."

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN has again been beset by a Young Men's Christian Association to give a benefit reading for them. She offered to do so upon receiving the full proceeds of the reserved seats, and one-third of the remainder. This reply was undoubtedly just. What right has any clique of persons to demand the gratuitous services of a distinguished artist, equivalent to a donation of at least $1,000? Charlotte Cushman was right, but we wish some others, who owed less to the public, had been allowed to administer the rebuke.

WHAT is "a dramatic entertainment?" This interesting question recently received judicial handling in England. Robert Ferguson, proprietor of a traveling show, was brought before the Police Court of Salford, charged with giving "a dramatic entertainment" without a license. What he did really give was an exhibition of rope-dancing, enlivened by "funny remarks" by two clowns. Sir F. J. Mantell said that in his opinion "the buffoonery of clowns could not, according to the common use of the terms, be called a dramatic entertainment."

Magazines.

Scribner, for April, presents the following rich literary banquet: I. The Proud Lady of Stavoren; poem, illustrated, Elizabeth Akers Allen; II, A Chat about German Parliaments, illustrated, William Wells; III, Young Moll's P y, C. A. Stephens; IV, Death Dealing Trades, William H. Rideing; V, What She Thought, poem, Julia C. R. Warren.

Potter's American Monthly, for April, is even better than any of its predecessors. It opens with a sketch of the Verplanck mansion. An account of the battles of Lexington and Concord follows with an early cut of a skirmish with red-coats. Other illustrations are of the old parsonage of Guilford in Connecticut, pictures of Theodosia Burr, who was so beautiful that burglars stole her portrait and pirates finally killed her, and of G. C. Verplanck and Alexander Wilson, and also cuts of eastern mosques and palaces about Agra. The articles of history are mainly extracts from diaries and papers and as usual are highly interesting and curious to read. The Notes and Queries department contains a confederate's declaration that the Barbara Frietchie story is a myth without other foundation than Mr. Whittier's description of the affair. He asks for a bill of particulars. It is also asserted that instead of General Jackson having fought behind cotton bales at New Orleans he saw some piled up at the fortification and ordered the dangerous things removed. In the fiction department there is the usual supply of Edmund Yates and other well-known writers.

Death from Intoxication.

A man by the name of John Burns stepped into Golden's saloon on Penn avenue, near Eleventh street, on Saturday afternoon about five o'clock, and, after being there a short time, died. At the time it was not known who he was or where he came from, so word was sent to the Coroner, who took the body into his possession. At the inquest it was ascertained that the deceased was from West Elizabeth, that he was a single man, and was about forty years of age. The jury, after viewing the body and hearing the testimony in the case, rendered a verdict of "death from inebriation."

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

····There were three common cases before Mayor Phillips yesterday morning.

····The man who spells State "Staight" ought to take advantage of the spelling schools in vogue.

····Agent Dean, of the Humane Society, shot a disabled horse on Saturday afternoon in Meltenberger's alley.

····Patrolmen Zedell and Keenan have been suspended by the Mayor for ten days for not attending strictly to business.

····The Pacific Express on the P. R. R. was five hours and a half late yesterday, caused by the ice gorge at Harrisburg.

····Col. Archibald Blakely slipped and fell on the ice on Liberty street on Saturday, and hurt himself so badly that he had to be taken home in a carriage.

····A special meeting of the Water Committee will be held to-morrow night for the purpose of devising measures for the completion of the new water works.

····Since the exit of the Thirty-seventh ward from the city the Mayor has withdrawn the police force from it, and Officer Mullen, who lives in the ward, consequently lost his position.

····A thief stole two gold watches and chains besides seventy dollars in money from the residence of Mr. Theodore Oatman, No. 1244 Carson street, South Side, on Friday evening last.

····In referring on Saturday morning to Lieutenant Hagar as being the one who stopped and searched a man on the street, the reporter made a mistake. It was not Lieutenant Hagar, but officer Tyre.

····At an early hour yesterday morning two Texan steers escaped from the Allegheny cattle yards. One of them, while being driven back, attacked the horse ridden by the owner of the other, and hurt it slightly.

····A runaway took place on Carson street, South Side, on Saturday, which resulted in several severe bruises to two young men who were riding in a buggy drawn by the frighened horse. The vehicle was badly wrecked.

····It was rumored last night that a large number of suits for violations of the liquor law would be instituted before the Mayor this morning, and more billiard men hauled up for keeping their establishments open yesterday.

····On Saturday evening Lieutenant Merriman of Allegheny, arrested a man named Thomas Bougs, as a suspicious character, and yesterday morning Mayor Phillips committed him to the Work house for a term of sixty days.

····George Holmes, a colored man, was arrested on Saturday on a charge of having stolen fifty dollars from Henry Harrison while the latter was stupefied by liquor. Con. Sexton, who made the information, said he witnessed the operation.

····The Castle Shannon Glass Company organized on Friday last by the election of the following officers: President, John Martin; Secretary and Treasurer, Geo. Rhodes; Directors—S. L. McCain, W. H. Gould, Samuel Corley, Henry Daub, John Sorey.

····On Saturday night a man named Henry Diffenbach attacked and knocked an old man down in Allegheny. He was arrested and locked up by officer Emanuel, and yesterday morning was fined $25 and costs, and in default was sentenced to thirty days at Claremont by Mayor Phillips.

····John Gilmore, charged by Agent Dean, of the Humane Society, with cruelty to animals, had a hearing on Saturday evening before Alderman Anderson, when a large number of witnesses were examined. The case will be concluded this evening by the arguments of the Attorneys.

····Mr. Robert Wray, night watchman at the Anderson street railroad crossing, Allegheny, was severely injured on Saturday morning by being run over by a butcher wagon driven by John Staufer. It was thought the injured man had several ribs broken and was injured inwardly.

····On Saturday morning while Mrs. Peter Gustman was passing up Seventh avenue, near High street, a stranger confronted her with a loaded pistol. The lady was accompanied by a little daughter, who screamed terribly, seeing the situation of her mother, which brought aid and the man escaped.

····An action was begun in the Common Pleas Court No. 2 Saturday, by A. W. Holthouse against Joseph C. Shaw to recover $165, alleged to be due for a lot of gilt-edge boxes, papers, &c., since April 28, 1873. The plaintiff claims that the defendant sold the goods, but never paid over the proceeds. A summons was issued returnable the first Monday in April.

····In the Fifth ward an uneducated man runs a grocery. Saturday last a woman came in and bought seven pounds of cheap sugar. After it was all nicely done up she inquired how much it was. "Let's see," said the grocer, taking his pencil and a piece of paper, "seven pounds at seven cents a pound. Seven times seven is seventy. Call it seventy-five cents and take it along."

····A person walking along a certain quarter of Smithfield street about half past seven o'clock last evening could not but have noticed the dissimilarity in sounds proceeding from opposite sides of the street. From a church on the one hand floated the sweet strains of the grand old Coronation hymn, and from a saloon on the other issued the discordant voices of beer guzzlers and the sharp, ugly clicking of glasses.

····Littel's Living Age for March 20 contains a selection from the English magazines even more than usually good. The contents are: "The English Bar and the Inns of Court," Eated to be Free, by Jean Ingelow. Part II. "Religious Revivals in Medieval Italy;" "Alice Lorraine, a Tale of the South Downs," by the author of "The Maid of Sker." Part XVIII.; "Early Kings of Norway," by Thomas Carlyle. Part II.; "Vagabonds in Winter-Time," "The Tyranny of Mothers," &c.

····During the last three months or more parties residing in the lower portion of Allegheny City, who kept poultry, have suffered greatly by thieves and a number of complaints were made at the Mayor's office. On Saturday evening Lieutenant Campbell arrested a man named James Henderson, as he strongly suspected him of being one of the principal parties who have been committing these depredations. Yesterday morning Henderson was committed to jail in default of bail for a hearing to-morrow morning.

····At last Saturday morning's session of the Pittsburgh Teachers' Institute, held in the Ralston school hall, a resolution was adopted requesting the teachers of the Thirty-seventh ward to continue as members of the Institute, notwithstanding the separation of the district from the city. A committee consisting of Messrs. C. C. Cochran, T. J. Duncan, J. L. Harrison, Prof. Burtt, H. J. Gourley and Geo. J. Luckey was appointed to inquire into the expediency of establishing a monthly journal for free distribution among the teachers and directors of the public schools of this city.

····The spelling match at Dietrich's hall, in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, last Friday night, was quite interesting. Miss Rogers, the victor, was presented with a copy of Pollard's "Lost Cause," and Miss Kate Strasser, for meritorious spelling, got a volume of poems. At the contest at Mt. Olive Church, in the Twenty-second ward, also on Friday evening, Miss Campbell, of Ligonier, Westmoreland county, won the first prize, consisting of an ink-stand, pen-holder, paper weight and gold pen, and the second prize, a handsome boquet, was awarded to Miss Rosa Moore, a teacher in the Twenty-second ward schools.

····At the close of the celebrated Meister-Mowry ejectment suit some weeks ago, it will be remembered that plaintiffs counsel signified their intention to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. The attorneys for the defense thereupon applied for an injunction to restrain Meister, the plaintiff, from transferring his claim pending the decision on the appeal by the Supreme Court, the plaintiffs believing that even if Cu-ba-yon-quit was decided to be the lawful heir of William Mowry, Meister could not show a legal transfer of the claim to him. The motion for the injunction was to have been argued Saturday in the U. S. Circuit Court, but, by request, it was postponed until the first Monday of May next.

A BIG HAUL IN ALLEGHENY.

Chief Ross and the Allegheny Police Make a Raid on a Wayne Street House—What they Got for their Trouble.

It was supposed, last winter, that the recovery of an extensive lot of goods which had been stolen from the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad by parties in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, and the arrest and conviction of about a dozen of the thieves who had been so systematically robbing the railroad cars, had effectually broken up all the work of that description in that neighborhood, but such was not the case. The railroad company have found lately that thieving was again going on in the same neighborhood, and the Allegheny police were notified of the fact, and the railroad company also put their own detectives to work to catch the thieves. About two weeks ago while Chief Ross was watching for several parties who were stealing iron from the railroad, and whom he afterwards captured, he observed some men carrying goods into a house on Wayne street, No. 21, but paid no attention to them at the time. On Saturday night the railroad detectives called on Chief Ross, as they had detected six men carrying off a large quantity of goods, but they did not know where they had gone to. Chief Ross then summoned Lieutenant Joseph Campbell, officers Bailey, Frost and Richey, and proceeded to No. 21 Wayne street, and as he was refused admittance proceeded to break the door open. The proprietor of the house, Patrick Monahan, was arrested, and a thorough search of the house made. The police found hidden in chests, bureaus, behind the wainscoting and other places a large quantity of the stolen goods. In the attic they found where the plastering should be, from the floor to the roof where the roof sloped to the front of the house, that the plastering had been neatly removed and the space filled with nearly a wagon load of articles. In front and to close up this place, was a row of bins, similar to those used for sugar and coffee. The stolen goods, in all two wagon loads, were removed to the Mayor's office, as was Monahan, who was locked up. The goods recovered consist of about 40 pairs of pantaloons, seven half chests of tea, 50 or 60 pairs of boots and shoes, of all kinds, several webs of silk, a large quantity of calicoes, alpacas, &c., about a dozen fine shawls, $275 worth of fine calf skin leather, several caddies of tobacco, 14 gallons gin, penknives, coats, vests, kegs of white lead and a large number of other articles, worth in all about $1,000 or $1,200. An information will be made against Monahan to-day by the railroad authorities.

Monahan formerly kept a saloon in the Sixth ward, but during the past two years has been peddling goods and teas throughout the county. In the search for goods the police discovered a "worm," used in distilleries. The parties who were seen stealing the goods on Saturday night are not known at present.

They both were killed with ague fits!
They were too good to live with me,
So they flew up to live with He!

An Important Fact.

The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes beyond all doubt a fact of vital importance to the sick and debilitated, viz., that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an absolute specific for remittent and intermittent fever, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, mental depression, sleeplessness, chronic diarrhoea, and all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. The unmedicated stimulants usually prescribed in these cases only aggravate the symptoms, instead of removing them. The Bitters, on the contrary, act as a corrective and invigorant, without producing unpleasant and dangerous consequences of the old school practice. The action is mild and soothing to the irritated stomach and bowels, promoting digestion and preventing flatulence, nausea, headache and all intestinal irregularities. A wineglassful before meals greatly assists digestion. The convalescent may use them with great benefit, as a means of restoring strength and cheerfulness.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY,
WASHINGTON, March 18, 1875.

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that The Third National Bank of Allegheny, in the City of Allegheny, in the county of Allegheny, and State of Pennsylvania, has been duly organized under and according to the requirements of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide a National Currency secured by a pledge of United State bonds and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June 3d, 1864, and has complied with all the provisions of said act required to be complied with before commencing the business of banking under said act.

Now, therefore, I, Jno. Jay Knox, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The Third National Bank of Allegheny, in the City of Allegheny, in the county of Allegheny, and state of Pennsylvania, is authorized to commence the business of banking under the act aforesaid.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office, this 18th day of March, 1875.

PROPOSALS.

OFFICE OF CITY CONTROLLER,
PITTSBURGH, March 11, 1875.

Sealed Proposals

Will be received at this office until 3 P. M., MONDAY, March 22d, 1875, for the following SUPPLIES; contracts to commence April 1st, 1875, and terminate April 1st, 1876.

For all the Nut Coal required at the Lower Works, on the corner of 12th and Etna streets. Said Coal to be delivered in such manner and quantities as the Superintendent may direct. At all times there must be on hand a supply of Eight Thousand (8,000) bushels.

Also, for all the Nut Coal required at the Upper Works, on Bedford avenue. The supply on hand must at all times exceed Three Thousand (3,000) bushels.

Also, for all the Nut Coal required at the Works on Forty-fifth street, with a daily surplus of Fifteen Hundred (1,500) bushels.

Bids must include good Nut Coal. Samples must accompany bids. Parties receiving contracts will be required to furnish the Coal as per sample. The manner of delivery in all cases to be determined by the Superintendent. Bonds to the amount of $5,000 00 must accompany each bid as security for the fulfillment of the contract.

Also, bids for all Ferrules the Superintendent may require, which must be made after the Patterns now in use. Said Ferrules to be made of the best quality of brass and fitted up in a workmanlike manner. Bonds to the amount of $2,000 00 must accompany all bids.

Also, bids for Miscellaneous Castings, which shall consist of Frame Covers, Fire Fronts, Grate Bars and all other Castings required by the Water Committee outside of Water Pipes and Branches. Bonds to accompany the bids to the amount of $2,500 00.

Also, bids for all Water Pipes and Branches of the different sizes the Water Committee may demand. Said Pipes to be cast vertically and made of soft grey iron, and to be tested to a pressure of 300 lbs. to the square inch, under the supervision of the Clerk of the Water Committee, and to be delivered at such times and in such manner as may be directed by the Superintendent. Bonds to the amount of $5,000 00 must accompany all bids.

Also, bids for Fire Plugs, Stop Gates, &c., both made of both the City Patterns. Bonds to the amount of $1,000 00 must accompany the same.

All Water Pipe must be 12 feet long in clear, not including bowl; and all Coal must be weighed on City Scales, at works.

Also the following Supplies:
12 Barrels Carbon Oil, more or less.
15 Barrels Lard or Lubricating Oil, more or less.
15 Reels of Packing Yarn, more or less.
2 Coils Manilla Rope Packing, more or less.
2 Bales Hemp Tow, more or less.
Gum Packing, 500 lbs., more or less.

The Committee on Water Works reserve the right to reject any or all bids.
